THE ANNUAL MEETING.

In the upper hall of the new Mission Memorial Building, the Cousins met for their annual reunion on Saturday afternoon of April 15, 1916.

President A. E. Judd called the meeting to order and all united in singing the first and last verses of "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," and in repeating in unison "the Lord's prayer."

The Honor Roll competition cards were distributed and explained. Later when the signed cards were collected there were found to be 182 eligible Cousins present—thirty more than last year.

The report of the Board of Managers for the two meetings held in Nov. 1915 and April 1916 was read and adopted. A very brief resume of the year was read by the secretary and the entire report adopted. The Nominating Committee, reporting through their president Miss Charlotte Hall, named the following officers for the ensuing year: Miss Agnes E. Judd for president; G. R. Carter, vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Andrews, secretary; Lyle A. Dickey, treasurer; R. W. Andrews, recorder. The report was unanimously adopted.

Treasurer Dickey's abridged report was read by acting vice-president W. J. Forbes. The collection was taken amounting to $55.15.

Great enthusiasm was shown when the Roll Call by Mission Families was read by G. P. Cooke and checked off by S. G. Wilder. There were twenty-six families represented, the Cookes leading in the numbers present. There were counted 25 Cookes, 21 Judds, 12 Chamberlains, 11 Rices, 10 Castles, 9 Halls, 6 Binghamms, 6 Forbes, 5 Lowell Smiths, 5 Thurstons, 4 Clarks, 4 Hitchcocks and 4 Dr. J. W. Smiths, 3 Armstrongs, 3 Baldwins, 3 Bishops and 3 Gulicks, 2 Alexanders, 2 Andrews, 2 Bonds, 2 Emersons and 2 Lymans, 1 Dole, 1 Paris, 1 Rowell and 1 Whitney. There were two digressions made during the calling of the roll, first when J. S. Emerson read a letter just received, telling of the death of Mrs. Sarah Coan Waters, and the other was the reading by Mrs. Mary Atherton Richards of a poem, written by P. H. Dodge in memory of W. H. Rowell.

The address by W. R. Castle on "Amusements of Early Days," was given for the children, but the gray-haired "children" were boys and girls again as in memory they followed their leader, first in voice-culture as their shouts rang from Punchbowl to Nuuanu; then in a walk to the beach and a wade in the sea; a mountain climb with its land-shells and refreshing ohias; the walk to the Pali; the two-hour swim; horseback riding, and racing on "Old Bones" the $10 horse; cattle chasing, kite flying, house-building in hau trees and monkey climbing from tree to tree. He told of "puss in the corner," "prisoner's base," "snap the whip," "hop-scotch," "tag" and "tug-of-war" till all forgot how the years had flown and the minutes were rushing by.

A report from the Chamberlain House committee was read by W. W. Chamberlain, acting chairman of the committee. He told of $7,500 collected and put at interest for the Chamberlain House repairs, and over $3,000 collected for the Memorial Mission Building.

The smallest donation was a penny, given by a small child. Why not ask more children to buy a brick in this Mission Memorial, for with the dime will go a thought, and the thought will grow to interest, love, and responsibility—an investment yielding 10,000 per cent. returns. So much for the thought dropped with the penny by baby fingers into the treasury of the Lord.

The report was accepted and the committee thanked. The naming of a new committee was left with the president, with power to act.

It was moved that the valuable records handed over to the Cousins from the Hawaiian Board be placed in the hands of the Chamberlain House committee, and that a trained librarian be employed to index and assort them as soon as funds can be raised for that purpose. It was voted that the whole matter be referred to the Board of managers with power to act.

The meeting closed by singing one verse of "Blest Be the Tie," and a benediction pronounced by Rev. O. H. Gulick.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT

A Summary.

A larger number of Annual Reports than usual were printed last year, as the Report of 1915 contained the lists of deceased and honorary members which appear but once in five years.

The reports were sent out early in July—680 being mailed, 112 distributed by hand. Some have been filed, but a number remain for those who wish a copy.

Gifts have been donated for which the Cousins are grateful and herewith return thanks. Among these are photographs. Miss Dorothy Rowell presented pictures of Mrs. Marion Rowell Gay and her husband, George S. Gay, Mrs. Malvina Rowell Rogers, George Rowell and Mrs. Fannie E. Rowell. Miss Amelia Armstrong sent some tiny photographs taken from paintings of her father and mother on the eve of their departure for the Sandwich Islands in 1832, also a photograph of the monument in memory of her sister, Mrs. Clara Banning, in Mountain View cemetery, Oakland, Cal. Hiram Bingham, Ph. D., sent a kodak snap-shot of his father, Hiram Bingham, D. D., reading the late article on Peru. He also sent a little bunch of photographs that belonged to his mother. Some of these, not marked, are awaiting identification by Cousins at the Annual Meeting. A photograph of Mother Ely was sent by Miss Harriet Everest Haight, a grand-niece of Mrs. Ely, who was a tourist on Hawaii a year ago. This proves the old adage that we sometimes entertain angels unawares. It was surely very kind of Miss Haight to have the little picture enlarged for us. Another picture we were glad to secure—that of Mrs. Orel Van Duzee, sent by her daughter Grace. Miss Grace also sent photographs of her sister Stella, who died in 1913, and her sister, Mrs. Flora E. Brown. Miss May Loomis sent a picture of her grand-mother, Mrs. Maria T. Loomis, one of the first company of missionaries. She also sent a hymn-book given to Mrs. Loomis in 1819, just before she married and sailed for the Sandwich Islands, besides a copy of parts of her grandfather's and grandmother's journals, begun on board the ship Thaddeus and continued for about three years. Miss Katherine Reynolds left us a pen sketch of "Gilbertina," the home of her aunt, Mrs. Coan, and promised some shells and palms that adorned that home. From Mrs. Philip Dodge came seven copies of "Ke Alauala," a monthly native paper edited in 1868 by O. H. Gulick, with a title designed by R. W. Andrews.

Miss Julia Gulick brought in some old daguerreotypes, and Miss Mary Parker has promised pictures of old island scenery. Mr. C. H. Dickey, for the heirs of Father Alexander, presented a tapa holoku, made by the old natives with bark fiber as thread, and sent by Father Alexander to his sister, Mrs. Gass, living in Kentucky, in the year 1835, and recently purchased by his heirs from the heirs of Mrs. Gass. A dressing saque, made by Mother Bailey for Mrs. Joseph Ives, was at the death of the latter given to Mrs. Louise Gulick Whitaker, who donated it to the Cousins Society. Mr. T. M. Coan sent two copies of Dr. Humphrey's "Titus Coan." A package of manuscripts has come from W. R. Castle, Jr. The artistic memorial volume, in honor of Henry Perrine Baldwin, given by Mrs. Emily Baldwin, is quite an addition to our library. And the latest gift is from the Hawaiian Board—a money-safe, with S. N. Castle's name on it and used by him long ago, probably in the old Chamberlain House.

The two things that will make this year a memorable one for the Cousins are the erection of the Hawaiian Board Memorial Building, and the preparing for publication of Rev. O. H. Gulick's "Pilgrims to Hawaii." Early in the year the president of the H. M. C. Soc. enlarged the Chamberlain House committee, and these prepared and sent out a circular letter, asking that the Cousins contribute $15,000 during the year, $7,500 of which should be used in re-fitting the old Chamberlain House, and the remaining $7,500 for the Hawaiian Board's Centennial Memorial Building. That beautiful memorial is now completed, and when the Chamberlain House is repaired they will face each other across the street as contrasts—the old and the new—the past and the present of Hawaii. It will make an interesting setting for 1920.

The other memorial tribute to the Fathers is the history of the mission, told largely in the words of the missionaries themselves. The material was collected by Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Gulick from great numbers of manuscripts in the archives of the A. B. C. F. M., and in this work Mr. and Mrs. Gulick spent months in those close, hot, dark rooms in Boston. Since their return they have been adjusting and arranging the material and weaving it into a little compact volume that cannot but interest every descendant of the missionaries, as well as all who are interested in the beginnings of civilization here. Within a few months the little volume will be ready for the press. This book really belongs to the old times, with the buildings on the "makai" side of the street, though the short sequel is a condensed narrative of much of the later history of the Islands down to the present time.

There have been recorded this year 10 marriages, 28 births, and 20 deaths.

The treasurer has received 63 new members, and the total number of Cousins is 1053.

MISSIONARIES AND OTHER WORKERS.

Rev. and Mrs. Ph. Delaporte and Miss Mitzner passed through Honolulu, remaining for two weeks, on their way to Oberlin, Ohio. With them was Mr. Kim Jedidamo, who accompanied Mr. D. as assistant proof-reader for the Nauru Bible, now going through the press. Money for this was secured from C. U. Church, with a grant from the American Board of Foreign Missions. The Nauru people themselves raised the money for Jedidamo's expenses, besides carrying on the church and educational work during the absence of their missionaries. How wonderful it all has been! In February, however, letters were received saying that as Nauru is now in the hands of the English, a German missionary will not be acceptable. Thus the Delaportes are providentially prevented from returning; but Mr. Jedidamo will carry the completed Nauru Bible, when finished, to his waiting countrymen.

Mr. Arthur McLure, a Y. M. C. A. worker and a former teacher at Mills School, passed through Honolulu from his home in Bangkok, Siam, on his way to Chicago to take a course in Bible study. But in San Francisco, May 28, he was accidentally killed by a passing jitney-bus. He was a cousin of C. H. Dickey.

On July 13th the "Manchuria" arrived with sixty missionaries and twenty Chinese students en route to the Orient. During the stop-over, Mr. Bowen Mr. Frank Cooke, Mr. George Castle and others entertained them by giving an auto trip to all the scenic places about Honolulu.

Representatives of the London Missionary Society, Messrs. Lenwood and A. J. Viner, passed through this city and expressed themselves greatly interested in the visit of Rev. Wm. Ellis and Messrs. Bennett and Tyreman in 1823, the former of whom assisted materially in the interpretation of the Hawaiian language.

In August, a missionary from Japan, Private Paul M. Kanamori of the Salvation Army, passed through at the call of forty-eight Christian churches on the Pacific, to preach the gospel among his own people in California. It seemed to be rather reversing the order of mission work, but Mr. Kanamori toured Hawaii for three months on his way, and proved to be an exceptionally able and consecrated man.

Mrs. John Scudder, for fifty years a missionary in India, her daughter, Dr. Ida Scudder, and niece, Miss Julia Scudder, were among the passengers on the August "Shinyo Maru," returning to their missionary field in S. India.

Dr. John L. Scudder, brother of Dr. Doremus Scudder, spent some weeks of January and February, 1916, in Honolulu, preaching some very acceptable sermons and addressing the Men's League in Central Union Church.

Rev. Cyrus A. Clark and his wife, Harriet M. Gulick Clark, spent three days in Honolulu en route to the Orient after a year's rest in the States.

Our hearts are knit still closer to China by the sailing on Jan. 14 of our cousins Rev. Robert Burdette Whitaker and his wife, Louise Gulick Whitaker, with their two little ones, to be located at Shoo-wu, of the Fuchow mission. They are sent out as missionaries under the American Board, supported by the Plymouth Congregational Church of Oakland, California.

Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, in a pamphlet entitled, "Hawaii's American-Japanese Problem," has told of his twelve days' tour of Hawaii. Tickets were handed him, with letters of introduction, automobiles awaited him at every station and audiences were gathered to hear him. In five days he made the tour of Hawaii and interviewed hundreds of persons. Two days were spent on Maui and two on Kauai. He visited camps, mills, schools, temples, hospitals, homesteads and stores, and talked with men and women, plantation managers, clerks, laborers, teachers, priests, judges, doctors and fishermen—every class of people who could throw light upon the question. Rev. F. S. Scudder, who accompanied him, helped in setting down answers to questions.

The Brown and Curry evangelists came to us on Nov. 30th and remained two weeks, holding union meetings in Central Union Church morning and evening, besides meetings in schools, street-car barns, army posts and on the street, in all forty-two meetings, filling the church and awakening a great interest in religious life, first among church members and then among young people not enrolled, till the number who came forward was 1,174, all seeking to know the truth and to follow the Christ. There are many who have cause to thank our cousin Wm. Waterhouse for bringing to us these men, who under God have done us great good. Rev.

J. Lydgate, at the close of the series of meetings, purchased one hundred of the Brown-Curry singing books, and taking Mr. Curry with him, toured Kauai for a fortnight.

Central Union Church has been very much alive in efforts to stir up the people to good deeds, working through the Men's League, the Women's Society, the Woman's Board of Missions, the well-organized Bible School and the largely attended Bible classes, as well as by means of eloquent discourses and fine music.

The Bible Training School at old Kawaiahao has nearly one hundred members of many nationalities, mostly from the Normal and Mid-Pacific schools. Here they receive a regular normal training and go, after graduation, to their homes throughout the different islands, where they do much good.

The Y. M. C. A. has been doing grand work this year in its several branches. To mention only one—the night school, where fifty wage-earning boys, in addition to their regular class-work in reading, writing, and arithmetic, have Bible study, educational hikes, sociables, gymnastics and swimming. They also have club meetings, conducted on the self-governing plan, with an adult leader, where they discuss social and economic problems, life of Christ and social service. A Japanese branch of the Y. M. C. A. has been established, and a campaign for one hundred members was completed which more than realized their expectations. Beginnings have been made among Chinese and Koreans, and Kauai is organizing a rural Y. M. C. A. Mr. Loomis, one of the Honolulu secretaries, has been sent to take charge of local groups of young men in different parts of the island, who will be trained in Association methods. The Y. M. C. A. will miss the strong leadership of Mr. Paul Super, who has brought it up to its present state of efficiency, he having been called to inaugurate other Associations throughout the land. His mantle has fallen in part upon Mr. A. E. Larimer, who will have charge of the central work, while Mr. Killam will look after the Oriental work and Mr. Robley will oversee the boys' clubs.

The Y. W. C. A. has made such advances during the year that it is impossible even to mention the numerous good times. The Summer Camp at the peninsula, occupying the house and grounds of Mrs. W. F. Frear, with tents, tennis, swimming and rest, was the first innovation. Then after months of hard thinking, careful planning and quiet working, the new Y. W. C. A. building—the old Y. M. C. A. building re-modeled, re-furnished and re-decorated—was opened and dedicated on Jan. 2nd, and followed by a whole week of receptions and festivities. Since then there has been constant advance—clubs formed, celebration of the founding of Y. W. C. A., educational work, athletics, swimming and socials. The Association has taken many steps forward and Miss Chandler, head secretary, Mrs. W. F. Frear, the president, and others share the honors.

The Christian Endeavorers among our young people are alive and doing a good work here, especially among the weaker Hawaiian and Japanese churches in the country, where they help to keep up church services, pay church debts, etc. Dr. and Mrs. Francis E. Clark came to Honolulu in December to recover their health, and remained very quietly resting until the C. E. rally, held Jan. 2nd in Kawaiahao Church, where they were greeted by an audience that packed the large church to the doors, with fine music and the Chautauqua salute—waving of white handkerchiefs. On Feb. 11th Dr. and Mrs. Clark left for the Orient, followed by the benediction of all the young people of Honolulu.

Out of the war and the world's great sorrow has come one note of joy. We have felt it here in Hawaii. We have seen it in the bright flashing eyes of the Lincoln-Lee Legion as they followed Purley A. Baker to the band-stand on the Capitol grounds, with their pledge buttons of "Love, Service and Sacrifice" and their little hands raised high as they promised exultantly, "With God's help we will see this through"; We have heard it in the strong, hopeful voices of The Anti-saloon League, as month after month it recorded the states gone "dry," or made the seemingly paradoxical statement that a nation—Russia—in a day had struck from its income $500,000,000 of revenue, and thus made itself richer; and we have felt it in the benediction of Mother W. C. T. U., as with clasped hands she thanks the Lord that her years of labor have prospered, and that her prayers are being answered abundantly.

Among the new workers on Hawaii-nei are Rev. and Mrs. Norman Craig Schenck, coming as superintendent of the Chinese Department of the Hawaiian Board; Rev. and Mrs. Willis B. Coale from Oberlin, who have located at Lahaina, Maui, taking the places of Rev. and Mrs. Burnham as overseers of the churches of Western Maui and Molokai; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lake, stationed at Hana, Maui, where the church and parsonage have been refitted and preparation made for some settlement work. Later, Mr. Lake expects to visit other stations and churches of East Maui. On Christmas eve a Community Christmas Tree was planted on the lawn in front of the church. The tree was illuminated with paper lanterns and the children were treated to cakes of Mrs. Lake's own baking. On Sunday morning the tree was for the Bible-school, and all the pupils had presents.

Rev. Tse Kei Uen was installed pastor of the Second Chinese Congregational Church of Honolulu, organized Oct. 25th, 1915. This is an outgrowth of the settlement work established and carried on so efficiently by Mr. and Mrs. Elijah McKenzie. Because Mr. McKenzie's health will not permit him to reside here they have resigned, and Mrs. McKenzie expects to follow her husband to the Coast as soon as one can be found to carry on her work.

The Rev. Jose Alba has charge of the Kauai Filipino Church, organized at Koloa, Oct. 12, 1915, with a membership of one hundred. Rev. Simon R. Yglorio is pastor of the Oahu Filipino Congregational Church, organized Sep. 5th with headquarters at Ewa but having preaching stations at Waialua, Waipahu, and the Immigration Station at Honolulu. Rev. T. F. Anderson also is working hard to raise money to erect a chapel at Pahoa, Hawaii, and to prepare the people for the organization of a church there.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Mathews and Miss Jane Mitchell are located at Wailuku and are in charge of the Alexander House Settlement. Miss Mitchell is the kindergartner, and Mrs. Mathews takes the place of Miss Charlotte Turner, resigned.

Rev. L. L. Loofbourow is acceptably occupying the pulpit of the Methodist Church of Honolulu.

Rev. Howard Harris was pastor for one year at Kahului and won the hearts of all. Ill health caused him to sail in May for California, and on Jan. 12, 1916, he passed away, leaving friends scattered from the Atlantic Coast to Japan.

The Hawaiian Evangelical Association held its annual meeting in Honolulu, July 14-17. The uplift of the early morning prayer-meetings, the intellectual growth in the practice of following definite lines of study, the blending of the many nationalities with English interpreters, and the gradual working toward English as the common language, were noteworthy experiences at this annual meeting, but the occasion of most interest was the Laying of the Corner-stone of the Memorial Building, which occurred on July 17th. Just across the street from the Old Mission Home where the Fathers and Mothers toiled in faith, one of their own children, grown gray in the work they undertook in their youth, made a short address in Hawaiian, and carefully applied the cement to the corner-stone that held, among many records, their pictures. But there was a change. Then the Hawaiian language alone was used in public—now the Scriptures were read in Chinese and prayers were offered in Portuguese, Japanese and English. The choir of Hawaiian young people sang beautifully, in English, the hymns their grandparents learned in their native tongue. During the service a beautiful rainbow spanned the building—the bow of promise—the prophecy of good that is to be. On the 20th and 21st the crowded house at the Anti-Saloon meetings attested the great interest the good people, especially the Hawaiians, take in prohibition. The Woman's Board tea-party was held July 21st at Mrs. Erdman's lovely home. The Musical Contest for correct hymn-singing was held on the night of July 19th and filled the opera house to the doors. The Molokai chorus won the banner.

In January the Hawaiian Board sent workers to tour Hawaii, Maui and Molokai. Rev. Akaiko Akana visited Kona, Kau, Puna, Hilo, Hamakua and Kohala, mostly in the interests of Christian Endeavor work. Revs. N. C. Schenck and H. P. Judd toured the churches of Maui and Molokai, and all, with Rev. J. P. Erdman, attended the Evangelical Association at Kalapana, Puna.

SCHOOLS.

The Public Schools have progressed harmoniously this year. Open-air schoolrooms were built all through the city and country—a dozen or more at Kaiulani alone.

The registration in the Summer School was over a hundred, and the drill received there was especially helpful to those teachers who needed to take Normal methods.

The Normal School graduated thirty students this year, and the McKinley High thirty-eight. The Royal School had nearly a hundred graduates, many of whom were Chinese and Japanese. The Kauai High School at Lihue has been very popular, the building being used by the people as a centre of social and literary activity. Mrs. W. H. Rice made to it a gift of picture frames and a victrola with excellent records. The Hilo High School has gone into the poultry business very extensively and satisfactorily, and is stirring up the town to an interest in this branch of industry.

Lahainaluna Seminary made a fine record under Prof. C. A. MacDonald in agriculture as in other branches. Thirty-five acres of land planted in cane yielded last year an income of $9000 to the school. There have been 135 boys in attendance. Prof. Clowes is the new principal of Lahainaluna.

The College of Hawaii has a new athletic field, a fine engineering laboratory and four other new buildings. The fourth annual commencement was held June 1st, 1915.

The Kamehameha Schools, through the trustees and faculty, held a reception at the home of the president, Ernest C. Webster, to meet the new principals, Miss Abbie Newton of the K. Girls' School, and Mr. Charles R. Bostwick of the Manual. The Manual School boys made as their Christmas present a pulpit and chairs for the new church at Kalaupapa, the leper settlement. These are the boys who, as Kamehameha Cadets, make such a fine appearance on the streets. An exposition of the industrial work of the school will be held in May that will be well worth attending.

The Hilo Boys' Boarding School has sent out a forty-page catalogue, printed on the school press. This gives the history of the school, its methods, the names of faculty and students, and is illustrated by a number of pictures. There are at present eleven teachers and eighty boys. These boys belong to eight nationalities, range in age from six to thirty years, and live, study and work together in harmony. They cultivate most of their forty acres of land. They have an academic building, four cottages for teachers, a dormitory, bath-house and manual training building. In the erection of most of these the boys have assisted. The course of study embraces the common branches, music and drawing, farming, home-craft, and practical instruction in several trades. This all-round education gives the boys a respect for honest labor, and an independence of character truly admirable. Our one representative there, who went under protest, has caught the school spirit and is now very loyal. There is another boy in Honolulu, a very fine boy, the son of a widow, who ought to be there.

Maunaolu.—The year 1915 was a full year for Maunaolu; full as to numbers, the girls enrolled being all that could be accommodated; full of growth in character and efficiency; full of work, hard study and recreation, and full of a truly home-like atmosphere. At the annual concert, an Indian operetta, "The Feast of the Red Corn," was given by the girls, led by their music-teacher, Miss Alice Bond, all the bright-colored costumes being made by the girls under the direction of their sewing teacher, Miss Lay. Home-made ice cream, cake and candy were dispensed afterward, and the evening's entertainment netted a little more than $225.00. Commencement Day, the 6th of June, saw six girl-graduates receive their diplomas and go forth with the inspiring address on "Efficiency and Usefulness," by Rev. Akaiko Akana, ringing in their ears and harmonizing with the years of instruction received in this "Beautiful Mountain Home," Maunaolu.

During the Summer many repairs were made on Baldwin Hall and needed improvements added. And later the new year opened with the pupils pouring in rapidly, and the busy teachers fitting each into her little niche in the home-life. Miss Bond left for Kohala Seminary to be near her parents, and Miss Leonora J. Clark, a graduate of Los Angeles Normal, took charge of the music. Miss Ruth H. Edwards, a graduate nurse from Oberlin, takes the place of Miss Calvert as house mother and assistant to the principal. Mrs. Haven returned from her year's leave of absence, and the school has prospered in every way but one. A siege of measles called for extra care, labor and patience, but under their own excellent trained nurse the girls all recovered.

We are happy to learn that Mrs. Fanny M. Simpson left in her will the sum of $800 to endow a scholarship at Maunaolu. It is a beautiful fact that in this way she can go on living, through others; on Maui, her home for so many years, and at the same time enjoy her reward in heaven. The two little girls who entered Maunaolu on the Stangenwald fund are doing well, and are highly commended by Miss Heusner, the principal. Two other Honolulu girls entered the school in February, partly through the efforts of our president, Miss Judd.

The Kohala Girls' School.—In the July "Friend" there came an appeal for $500 for repairs, paint, etc., for "this most useful institution in Kohala." The money was sent, and then followed the present appeal for $50,000 for additional endowment and a new building—a dormitory and class-room—the present dormitory having been in use thirty-eight years. The present school-building was the pet project of Father Bond, who donated the land for it and spent his last years in its advancement. The first principal was Miss "Lizzie Lyons," who, with unfailing patience, amid great privations, prepared the Hawaiian girls of that early day for life. Father Bond's investment has already brought large dividends, and Miss Lyon's day of small things has greatly expanded.

Miss Alice Bond writes, "We have sixty girls enrolled now, which makes us exceedingly crowded." * * "We are hoping that it will not be long before we can have the new dormitory which we so much need. We have all the grades from the first to the eighth, and have a splendid graduating class of ten girls this year. The youngest member of the school is a little five-year-old * * a dear little girl very much beloved by all of us. The girls all regularly attend Sunday services at the Hawaiian church which is very near the Seminary. * * They also help in the choir and prepare some sacred selections each Sunday. We try to make all the work of the school practical; the girls who are studying piano, play for us in chapel exercises that they may be ready to help in their home churches during the summer. We are also starting a special class for girls who are eager to be able to direct and lead groups of singers in their churches and Bible-schools during their vacation. Besides their regular school lessons, the girls are taught cooking, sewing and home-making. * * Of the nine girls who graduated last year, two are doing dress-making here in Kohala, two have positions in our public schools here, three are going to school in Honolulu and two are here at the Seminary as assistants in the sewing and cooking departments." Miss Bond speaks of Miss Mitchell, the principal, and four other teachers, and tells how the girls are trying to raise money for the new dormitory by writing chain letters; but our space is limited.

Mid-Pacific Institute.—A few months since, a class of students was seen swarming into the Library of Hawaii, consulting the librarian, the card index, the shelves of reference books and encyclopedias, and then eagerly pouring over the contents, as bees gathering nectar from their favorite flowers. They were preparing compositions for a prize contest. These students were from Mills School, and such eagerness for knowledge is a recommendation to any school. Mills carried off the Chamber of Commerce prize of $100, and the Yale Alumni Association's prize. The school spirit has developed during the two years past and loyalty to school and faculty has increased. The average attendance last year was 205. There were 100 Chinese, 95 Japanese, 11 Koreans, 11 Filipinos, 8 Hawaiians, 2 Portuguese, 2 Americans and 1, each, part-Hawaiian, Spanish and English-Marshall-Islander, making 232 enrolled. During the summer there came to the principalship Robert Day Williams, a scholar, an athlete, one who understands boys, and who, we believe, is able to harmonize these nationalities into one citizenship of the world, whose King is Jehovah.

Kawaiahao seems always to have one great event that stands prominently before all others of interest. This year it was the marriage of her very efficient principal, Miss Mabel E. Bosher, to the minister of Central Union Church, Dr. Doremus Scudder. For seven years and more, Miss Bosher had been leader here. This beautiful new building knew no other principal, and these girls could remember no other school-mother. As she had led them through the fairyland of books, the delights of industrial achievement and the exhilaration of athletic sports, so now she goes before them into the mysterious land of matrimony, and will be able and ready to help and advise them when they leave the sheltering school-fold for the broader life outside.

Quite recently, Dr. R. D. Williams, principal of Mills School, was made President of Mid-Pacific Institute and so head of Kawai-ahao Seminary as well as Mills School.

Punahou.—The seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Punahou Academy will occur in 1916, and June 20-22 has been chosen for its celebration. From the first of the year the thought of it has inspired to greater endeavor faculty and students alike, quickening their mental activities, lending them strength and speed in athletics and rousing a spirit of "esprit de corps" throughout the school, the officers and the alumni. Invitations have been sent to all old students, and a great reunion will be held. The schedule is complete, including an Academic Program on Tuesday, June 20; "Old Punahou Day" on Wednesday, June 21; and on Thursday, June 22, the great "Pageant." The book of the Pageant, prepared by an able committee,—Miss Mary Winne, Miss Ethel Damon and Mrs. I. Cox,—is written by Miss Ethel Damon, who has entered into the spirit of the founders and then followed the irrepressible pupils through the "iron age" and the days of prosperity until the present time. It is being illustrated by Miss Jessie Shaw and Miss May Fraser, and will not only be interesting and artistic, but will set forth the history of Punahou in such a way that the pageant will surely please the people.

THE ROLL-CALL OF COUSINS.

Dear Cousins,—We have been impressed of late with the fact that a personal message brings the Cousins into closer touch, and for this reason we want a word in the coming report from each. We enclose a postcard to be filled out with your name, address and family news—such as marriages, births, deaths, removals, Christian work and excursions during the year—or old-time memories, or, better still, a real letter in place of the postcard—anything to serve as a greeting or mental hand-clasp across the sea.

Alexander (W. P.).—Mrs. C. H. Dickey and Mrs. Emily Baldwin were in Oakland last summer at the time of the home-going of their sister, Miss Mary J. Alexander. Mrs. Dickey also spent the holidays in California because of the illness of her little grandson, who soon recovered, and now she and Mr. Dickey expect to leave for Oakland soon, to remain a year. With two children on the Coast and two at the Islands, six grand-children over there and four here, Mr. and Mrs. Dickey are doing their utmost to make a path across the sea. The heirs of W. P. Alexander, through C. H. Dickey, presented the Cousins with a tapa holoku, made without thread in 1835 by native women.

Mrs. A. C. Alexander has been prevailed upon to continue as president of the College Club. Wm. P. Alexander, from the College of Hawaii, will be in the Experiment Station next year. DeWitt will spend his vacation from Yale, this summer, at home.

W. D. Alexander visited San Francisco and Oakland during the summer, but his health sends him back, after each absence, to the pure air of Arizona. Miss Mary C. Alexander is in Oakland and Miss Agnes in Japan. Mrs. Helen Alexander has suffered not a little from neuralgia, but is under the loving care of her daughter-in-law, Marion Alexander. A Hawaiian treat of poi and fish from Laura Wight was shared by her with her aunt Mary Nott, and served as a real tonic for two invalids.

Andrews (L.).—One death and one birth record the vital statistics of the Hardy family. Judge Jacob Hardy, at the age of eighty-eight, after months of gradual decline, passed away quietly and peacefully in the early morning of Aug. 8th, and was buried in the Lihue cemetery. His daughter, Mrs. Dean, was with him. She now resides with her son, D. W. Dean, at Lihue. On Feb. 16th, 1915, there was born to Mrs. Dean's daughter a third son, Robert Grenville Hoskins, the fourth great-grand-child of Judge Hardy before he passed away.

Lorrin Andrews, Esq., spent a few days in Brooklyn, in the holiday season, with his parents, brother and sisters. His sister Beatrice, Mrs. Fernow, and husband now reside in Milwaukee, where her paintings and her little Constance are much admired. Mrs. Mary Nott sent a very pretty picture of herself surrounded by three of her smiling daughters.

Carl B. Andrews, chief engineer of the Oahu Railway, is temporarily holding the chair of Railway Engineering in the College of Hawaii, Prof. A. R. Keller being absent for a year on leave.

Andrews (Seth L.).—Miss Winnifred Andrews is preparing herself to be—or perhaps is already—a librarian in the city of Detroit.

Andrews (C. B.).—Cabled news has been received of the death from typhoid of Dr. Frederick Douglas Shepard, of Aintab, Turkey. More details are anxiously awaited. Dr. Shepard was almost broken down in health last summer, but continued for months in red cross work in Constantinople. The last letters told of his expected return to Aintab to carry some needed medicines. About that time his daughter, the wife of President Riggs of Euphrates College, left Harpoot with her family for America. Every steamer was anxiously awaited for their coming, but her aunt, Miss Lucy Andrews, wrote, "No one on this side of the Atlantic knows where they are." A second son, Douglas Riggs, was born to Pres. and Mrs. Riggs about the New Year of 1915.

Later, Mar. 24th, Miss Lucy Andrews writes, "We can see the guiding hand of a loving Father in the details of the recall of our beloved Dr. Shepard during his last months of service. The official reports say that he died of typhus fever; my sister says that he died of a broken heart—broken by the unspeakable horrors suffered by the Armenians. . . . Mrs. Shepard and Florence were still in Aintab when last we heard from her Jan. 4th. Alice Shepard Riggs and family are in Beirut waiting for an opportunity to get away. We hear that the harbor has been mined. My financial responsibilities are increased by the death of Dr. Shepard. I cannot see those who were nearest to him suffer for the necessities of life as long as I have anything to share. I refer to Fanny and Florence, and his sister Mrs. Fuller, who is a widow and an invalid, with a young son who must be educated. Next to them come the Armenians, left destitute by the war. Of course there are others, Belgians, Poles, Servians—but I will let others do for them. What I can do will go to Armenians."

Armstrong (R.).—At Nanking, China, May 17, 1915, another little son, Theodore Holmes Bullock, was born to Rev. A. Archibald and Mrs. Ruth Holmes Beckwith Bullock.

Mrs. Amelia Beckwith Hair and daughter visited in Honolulu in August and then returned to her cheery home on Maui, accompanied by our cousin, Miss Julia E. Snow, who made a delightful visit.

Miss Amelia Armstrong sent tiny photographs of portraits of Father and Mother Armstrong, taken in the long ago when they were young. Mrs. Weaver also sent a very pretty picture of Miss Jennie Armstrong.

B. R. Banning shows his continued interest in the H. M. C. Society by a gift to the trustees of another thousand dollars.

Mrs. Ellen A. Weaver wrote in July from Saratoga Springs a characteristically interesting letter, saddened somewhat by news of the passing away of so many Cousins. Mrs. Weaver had visited the birthplace of Charles R. Bishop at Glen's Falls—a twenty-mile trolley-ride from Saratoga Springs, and was planning to send photographs of the old home to him—but he had gone. She contrasted the present automobile trips over the Pali to the Coral Gardens with her ride on a pillow behind her father in 1851, but, she says, "the gay sponges and painted fish were not revealed to us in our childhood." Mrs. Weaver is "deeply interested in the restoration of the Chamberlain House and our co-operation with the Hawaiian Board in establishing a center of missionary interests and relics on historic ground." She calls it "a valued part of my missionary heritage." Mrs. Weaver and Miss Armstrong are now happily situated in Berkeley, where they find much of interest. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Weaver visited the Exposition and their many friends on the Coast during the summer.

Bailey (E.).—From 1329 Bonita Ave., Berkeley, Cal., Mrs. James Bailey writes, "I wish to thank you for the Cousins' Society Annual—it is such a welcome messenger; also to introduce to you, for the next year's report, a new Bailey descendant, who arrived too late for this year's,—Justin Banker Bailey. I am happy to say he is a healthy, good-natured offspring. This is a great year up here near the World's Panama Exposition, not only in the wonders of the exposition, but in the meeting of old friends that one never expected to meet in this world. I am still waiting to say "Aloha nui" to some of the friends of long ago in Hawaii. Aren't you thinking of coming? I have a welcome for you.—Lucy D. Bailey."

Christmas greetings were received from our Grass Valley cousins, Charles and Jessie Bailey and their daughter Caroline. On March 23 Miss Caroline writes of a change of address from Grass Valley to "East Auburn, Placer Co., Cal., a charming little foothill town on the American River Gorge, much more accessible to the Bay than Grass Valley. We enjoy it very much; on the east the snow-covered Sierras stretch away to the horizon, and on the west there are the most glorious sunsets over the Sacramento valley. * * One afternoon two members of the Congregational Church with which mother and I had united, called. As soon as Miss Fuller came in she glanced at a painting of Iao, above a bookcase where Grandfather Bailey's photograph stood, and asked, 'I wonder if you are connected with the Baileys of Wailuku?' * * You can realize how delighted we were to find Cousins in our new home, and to know that Miss Fuller used to visit Grandfather and Grandmother Bailey in the old Wailuku home. Each year the Roll-Call is a great pleasure to us, as I know it must be to all Cousins. Daddy has been quite ill for some months, and for the last two weeks has been at St. Helena Sanitarium, where we hope very earnestly that the treatment will benefit him."

Baldwin (D.).—A beautifully bound volume of "The Memoirs of Henry Perrine Baldwin" was presented to the Hawaiian Mission Children's library by Mrs. Baldwin, for which we return the thanks of the society. Mr. Sam Baldwin, with his interesting family, has left his beautiful city residence for a home at Haleakala Ranch, with its perfection of scenery and climate. Dr. W. D. Baldwin occupies the old Haiku Baldwin home. Mr. Henry A. Baldwin and family are about leaving for a few months' stay in the States. Mr. F. F. Baldwin is still in charge of the Puunene plantation, and Mr. Arthur Baldwin of Cleveland with his wife and the oldest three children will visit Hawaii this summer.

The sons and daughters of H. P. Baldwin are planning a church on Maui as a loving tribute to their father's memory, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldwin will place in it an organ as a memorial to their son Jared.

Mr. Douglas Elmer Baldwin, assistant manager of the Makaweli plantation, Kauai, was married, Sep. 8th, 1915, in San Francisco, to Miss Ruth Carolyn Johnson, formerly of Honolulu.

Bingham (H.).—In May a little grand-daughter to Mrs. Sutherland, Mary Annette Arledge, was born in Honolulu. In July, Miss Catherine Crocker, a grand-niece of Mrs. Lydia Bingham Coan, and her mother, were here, and Mrs. Coan seemed so happy in having them with her. Soon after their departure, Mrs. Coan became ill, and on August 31st she joined the waiting friends on the other shore. The funeral services were conducted in the old Kawaiahao Church which her father dedicated, and her body was laid to rest in the hallowed mission church-yard. Her niece, Miss Katherine Reynolds, left Honolulu as soon as the home, "Gilbertina," could be closed, and she is now living at the home of her cousin, Hiram Bingham, Ph. D. Dr. Bingham has sent to the Cousins a little package of photographs that belonged to his mother. Miss Reynolds gave to the Society a photographed pen-picture of Gilbertina, and promised some Gilbertina palms and shells.

Mrs. Sutherland remains in Honolulu, held here by her four daughters, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Arledge and the Misses Sutherland, as well as by the many friends she has made in Honolulu.

Bishop (A.).—Mother Bishop, notwithstanding her ninety years, is in fine health and spirits. In fact she has not been so well in years. On Jan. 12th, her many friends called to honor her ninetyeth anniversary, and found her looking as lovely as ever in her new lavender-colored dress, with rare lavender orchids—sent by a friend—at her side. Written congratulations were sent by The Cousins, the Woman's Board of Missions, the Woman's Society of Central Union Church, and by the Ad Club, while flowers, sweets and other gifts, spoke in part the love of her many friends. It is well that she, the last of the Missionary Mothers, should be thus honored. Mother Bishop asks us to extend her "aloha" to all the Cousins.

Mother Bishop's grand-son, Egbert Bishop, the only one who can pass the honored name down the generations, is in Clark's University fitting himself to be a missionary to China. His sister Helen, who finished a course in Domestic Science at Columbia College, New York, has charge of one of the girls' homes at Johns Hopkins University.

The Misses Ruth and Margaret Shaw are teaching at the Normal School, and Miss Jessie is busy with her art. She and Miss May Fraser are illustrating the Punahou Pageant book.

Bond (E.).—Such interesting, live times the people of Kohala have been enjoying this year! On October 10th they celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of the dedication of the old stone church, a large church with a remarkably romantic history. It has recently been repainted and carpeted, and was beautifully decorated. The music by the Seminary girls was melodious, and the addresses were happily reminiscent. These addresses were delivered in native by two old pastors, former pupils of Father Bond, and interpreted by Rev. Akaiko Akana into English. There was, besides, a two-hour "hoike," to which the large audience of 400 or 500 people listened with interest.

On Oct. 24th the Union, or Foreign, Church celebrated the jubilee of the first English service held at Kohala, in a school-house erected by the plantation in 1865. The Seminary girls sang an anthem at this reunion, and Miss Caroline S. Bond read a paper recalling incidents and people—all the white people living in Kohala in those early days.

Dr. B. D. Bond and family and the Misses Bond are in Kohala. B. Howell Bond is in Cincinnati; Kenneth D. Bond is at Phillips Exeter Academy at Exeter, N. H., James Douglas Bond is at Michigan University, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Miss Alice is doing an excellent work at Kohala Seminary.

Mrs. Bicknell and her son Robert live on Young street, and her daughter Mrs. Story, and family, live with them. They have just bought the Forbes home on Punahou street. Auditor James Bicknell and family live on Kinau Street. Dr. Henry Bicknell and wife "took in" the World's Fair last summer, attended the D. D. S. Association and then went on to Michigan to visit his brother Joseph and family. Here the other brother, William, met them and they had quite a reunion of Bicknells. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien are talking of removing from Kohala to Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bond are at 5460 Boyd Ave., Oakland, California.

Castle (S. N.).—Of Mrs. Mary Castle Hitchcock's family, we record a visit of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Snow to the Fair in the late autumn. Mrs. Schoen and three children went over to the Coast at the same time—to make an extended stay in San Jose. The children were put in school. Mrs. Schoen has returned and has placed two boys in the Honolulu School for Boys.

Of Alfred Castle's family—Mr. and Mrs. Marx made an extended trip to the mainland, as far east as Chicago, taking in the Fair on the way. They returned early in January with Ethelwyn Castle after her year and nine months with the Meads in Chicago. Ethelwyn has taken the Sherman house on Nuuanu Avenue, where she resides with her mother and sister.

Mrs. Harriet Castle Coleman spent a few weeks last summer in Olaa with her sister Mrs. Mary Hitchcock. Mrs. Coleman has been elected a member of the executive committee of the National Historic Society. The society was incorporated in the District of Columbia, April 26, 1915, for the purpose of promoting historical knowledge and study, patriotism and the peace of righteousness among nations.

Mr. W. R. Castle returned with his wife and Beatrice last fall from an extended trip on the mainland, at Boston and in California. Mr. Castle is erecting a number of neat cottages, fitted out with gas fixtures, electricity and all modern conveniences, to be let at living rental to mechanics in limited circumstances. W. R. Castle, Jr., has just issued another book, "Wake Up, America." A little son, William Douglas, came to the family of Alfred Castle on Feb. 29, 1916.

Mr. George P. Castle and wife spent the Spring of 1915 on the mainland visiting in Boston and returned in June.

Mr. James Castle also spent the Spring of 1915 in Boston, returning with Mrs. Castle in the Summer. Mr. Harold Castle and his wife Alice went East in the fall for a four-months' trip.

Carrie Westervelt, with husband and Andrew, spent the Summer at Macatawa Park on Lake Michigan, taking in the Fair en route.

Helen Mead and husband took Madame Mead to Miami, Florida, for the winter, to the great benefit of her health.

Mrs. Henry Castle and Elinor spent a delightful winter in Honolulu, renewing old friendships and acquaintances. They left full of enthusiasm in the hope of returning permanently in a couple of years, after Elinor finishes her course at the University of Chicago.

Chamberlain (L.).—The resignation of Rev. Horace W. Chamberlain from the Kalihi Union Church seems a great misfortune. He had founded and built up the Settlement, and by his optimism, strong will and perseverance, with constant trust in the Guiding Hand, it developed into a most promising field. A lot of seven acres had been purchased, a chapel built and a fine parsonage erected, and finally an independent church was organized. To Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain it was an own child, and they devoted to it their time, strength and personal funds. But there is a limit to the endurance of everyone, and Mrs. Chamberlain, as leader of the many-sided work among the women and children, reached hers at Kalihi. They left on June 25th, 1915, for Chicago, where, after serious hospital treatment, she is happily recovering. The church is being faithfully ministered to by Rev. B. T. Sheeley in the interim of permanent pastors.

Mr. W. W. Chamberlain has proved a hustler in the Chamberlain House Committee, and deserves thanks of Cousins and Hawaiian Board for his efficient services.

Clark (E. W.).—Births, marriages and deaths! They enter into the records of almost every family, and are the main points in life's history. All have been recorded in the Clark family this year. On April 29, Mrs. Caroline Clark Austin breathed her last after a beautiful life of great usefulness and devotion. Later a grand-daughter, Marian C. Austin, daughter of Herbert C. Austin of Kohala, was married to Mr. Eugene Horner, and on Oct. 28 a great-grand-daughter of Mrs. Austin, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hale Austin, at Phelps, N. Y.

Dr. A. S. Baker and his wife, Mrs. Harriet Austin Baker, made a trip to the Coast in the Summer, leaving little Ruth Caroline to the care of her grand-mother Baker. Another outing took them to Kauai, where they have many friends.

Coan (T.).—As original messages seem to bring the absent Cousins so much nearer, we quote from T. M. Coan, "Thanks for your H. M. C. report for 1915. Every word of it is interesting. With this I send you two copies of Dr. Humphrey's 'Titus Coan,' a sketch of my father's missionary work. (I have more copies for anyone who would like them.) I remain with sincere aloha to you and yours.—Titus Munson Coan."

From Mrs. Sarah Coan Waters: "The Cousins' Society report just received and read with absorbing interest, as always. It is delightful to see the cousinly band growing together each year, and you in Hawaii doing so much to keep alive missionary memories. I am with you, heart and soul, in the good work. Cordially yours.—Sarah Coan Waters."

Cooke (A. S.).—Mr. A. Frank Cooke has been elected one of the original founders of the National Historical Society and Miss Margaret made leader of music in the schools of Honolulu. In December Mrs. Juliette Cooke Melanphy was called to pass through great sorrow in the death of her husband, but in January a little daughter, Martha Annis, was sent to brighten her life.

On Aug. 8, a little daughter, Elizabeth, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cooke. It was Mrs. C. M. Cooke who donated the Cooke cottage as a part of the equipment of the Salvation Army Home.

REV. F. W. DAMON

Mr. F. C. Atherton was made a member of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Laura Atherton and sisters have been helpful in forwarding the work of the Y. W. C. A. this year. On Dec. 17 little Juliette Montague Guard slipped away from her home and her mother's arms to be with the angels, who "do always behold the face of the Father."

Mr. J. P. Cooke gave the thousand dollars that prepared the new athletic field for the College of Hawaii. Mrs. J. P. Cooke made a trip across the continent in September to re-enter her children in school. Platt Cooke and his brother Henry are at Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., and Emily with other island friends is enjoying school at Westover, Conn.

Damon (S. C.).—The passing of F. W. Damon, after a long illness, took from Honolulu and from the mission cause one of its most efficient Christian workers, and the Cousins mourn their loss.

Mrs. Violet Damon Putman and Dr. Putman are living in Lihue, Kauai. Miss Daphne is in Boston, Mr. Cyril Damon graduated from Harvard last year and is in business here, Barnard graduated from Punahou and is taking a post-graduate course. Miss Vera is a busy kindergartner, but not too busy to gladden the hearts of Central Union society and Woman's Board with her rare gift in the service of song.

We are happy to record marked improvement in the health of Mr. S. M. Damon. Mrs. Damon, who has been ill, is also better. Mr. Henry Damon and family are in California, and their daughter Esme is at school at Westover, Conn. Miss May Damon and Mr. Douglas Damon are at home at Moanalua.

Of the E. C. Damon family, Mr. Will Damon is in Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Damon are in Albany, N. Y., Mr. Fred. Damon and family, and Mrs. Julia Damon Giffard with her husband and little Walter are in Honolulu. Miss Ethel Damon will return from the Coast in May.

Dibble (S.).—Mrs. Grace P. Haven returned in September from her year's outing greatly refreshed, and has since been putting her whole heart into the good work at Maunaolu. During her absence she traveled considerably, and visited many friends. She also spent much time in study in New York City and at Northfield.

Dimond (H.).—A beautiful life faded from earth to shine in brightness on the other shore, when Mrs. Mary Waterhouse Corbett died on May 9, 1915. She remembered the Cousins in her will, and at the death of her husband, D. W. Corbett, this society will come into possession of a $5000 legacy. Thus the blessed heritage of the Fathers is extended by the thoughtful kindness of one of the lovely grand-daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waterhouse will soon leave Hawaii for the Malay peninsula, to look after the immense plantations of rubber and cocoanuts belonging to the Waterhouse Investment Company, Ltd., and to prepare and put on the market some valuable tropic lumber.

Dole (D.).—Judge Sanford Ballard Dole completed his second term as Judge of the U. S. Circuit Court in December. He served some months longer before a successor could be found and he was able to retire to private life. For about twenty-five years as Judge of the Supreme Court of Hawaii, President of the Provisional Government, President of the Republic of Hawaii, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii for two terms, and then Judge of the U. S. Circuit Court, he has stood as a most courteous father to the Hawaiian people and their adopted brothers.

News of the sudden death of Mrs. George Dole at Redlands, Cal., on March 13th came as a shock to her many friends. Although her thirteen children are all grown, educated, and started each on his own life career, the wonderful personality of such a mother cannot be severed by death, but will be an enticing attraction to the land of reunions and joy. She leaves ten sons and three daughters.

Walter S. Dole is a civil engineer of Santa Monica, Cal.; W. Herbert Dole, an architect of E. Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Marion F. Dole Jones, of Kobe, Japan; Clara M. Dole, of Riverside, Cal.; Judge Charles S. Dole, of Lihue, Kauai; Dr. Emily C. Dole, osteopathic physician, of Berkeley, Cal.; Alfred R. Dole, mining engineer of Hammondton, Cal.; Norman E. Dole, chemical engineer of Alameda, Cal.; Wilfred H. Dole, engaged in lumber business at Aloha, Wash.; G. Ethelbert Dole, in the real-estate business at Riverside, Cal.; Sanford B. Dole, Jr., rancher of Riverside, Cal.; Kenneth L. Dole, M. D., of Boston, Mass.; Elwin H. Dole, rancher of Winnecook, Montana. Nine of these were students of Stanford University, one attended Mills College, Cal., and three are graduates of Cornell. Mrs. Marion Dole Jones from Japan writes that Kobe is a pretty place and she has enjoyed the months spent there, but Japan is a poor place for children. The climate is trying and the school problem is a hard one.

Emerson (J. S.).—The cabled message from San Francisco on July 18th telling of the sudden death of Dr. N. B. Emerson, on board the Coast steamer from Alaska to San Francisco, was sad news to his many friends in Honolulu. Fortunately, his son was with him, but to the wife, waiting with joyful welcome, it must have been a crushing blow. Another element of sadness was the coming of Rev. O. P. Emerson and wife, then on the Pacific, making their long-anticipated visit to Hawaii and not knowing of their loss till they landed at Honolulu. Though his visit was thus clouded, Mr. Emerson really enjoyed being again on his loved mountains, to take in the breath of the trade-winds, and to meet old "kamaainas" once more. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson returned in August to their waiting congregation in East Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Justin Emerson has been quite ill but has recovered. Mrs. J. S. Emerson has devoted her energies during the year to the war sufferers. She has been writing letters to homeless soldiers, sending boxes of supplies, and by inaugurating a Belgian "tag day," sent quite a Christmas gift of money to the Queen of Belgium for the suffering children of her kingdom. J. S. Emerson read at Historical Society a very interesting paper on "Kahunas—Masters of the Black Art"—the witch doctors who prayed their foes into the arms of death.

Forbes (C.).—Mr. W. J. Forbes has been serving for the past ten months as Vice-President for our Society during the absence of G. R. Carter in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Forbes spent a delightful vacation in California, enjoying the Exposition and visiting friends and points of interest. This was an especially well-deserved outing, as neither Mr. nor Mrs. Forbes had been away from Hawaii for many years. They took with them their two splendid, wide-awake boys, to whom the trip was quite an education. The three girls were taken into Mrs. Benner's family, rustivating at the peninsula.

The Misses Maria and Harriet Forbes spent their vacation on Hawaii—at Hilo, Olaa, and other places of interest. They have sold their Punahou home and are living on Wilder Ave.

Green (J. S.).—Honolulu was glad of the return of Secretary and Mrs. Thayer from the Coast. Secretary Thayer was called upon to be acting governor in the absence of Gov. Pinkham during the summer months. Mrs. Thayer has been quite active in church work—in the Women's Society and in Woman's Board of Missions. Miss Carrie Green is in the Library of Hawaii still, and she and Miss Emeline and Mr. Henry Green reside with their mother and Mrs. May Green Wilcox on Judd Street. Mrs. Wilcox, as superintendent of Kawaiahao Sunday School spends many hours every week looking after records, the children and the finances. Indeed, she is doing a beautiful mission work among the Hawaiians of Honolulu. Miss Laura Green has left the King's Daughters' Home, where she will be greatly missed, for though a great invalid herself she was able to brighten the lives of those about her in many ways. The new King's Daughters' Home at Kaimuki is nearing completion—a great, rambling building of one story, where the air from the mountains and valleys is simply delicious, and the superb view of mountain and sea can never be shut out.

Gulick (P. J.).—The sixtieth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Gulick was spent at Kaneohe, sailing over the coral gardens in a glass-bottomed boat, taking in the ever-entrancing view from the Pali, riding through pineapple fields, gazing at the dark, beetling cliffs of windward Oahu, and feeling with the psalmist, "As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about His people." The Gulick history of the mission, "Pilgrims to Hawaii," upon which they are spending much time, will be ready for the press within a few months. It is a concise compilation of facts as told by many missionaries.

We were glad to welcome home Dr. John Gulick and his wife after a sojourn of a year in California. Their daughter, Louise Gulick Whitaker, with her husband, Rev. Robert Burdette Whitaker, and two children, Julia Martha and Louis Eugene, made a short visit here on their way as missionaries to China. Little Louis Eugene was born Aug. 15th, 1915, and starts young to follow in the footsteps of his missionary ancestors. Mr. Addison Gulick, of the faculty of Missouri College, Columbia, Mo., was married on March 29, 1915, to Miss Margaret Buckingham of Boston.

Another Gulick was added to this large family in Tacoma, Wash., on May 13, 1915, Edward Vos Gulick, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Vos Gulick and great-grand-son of Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, at the instigation of whom this Society originated.

Mrs. Harriet Gulick Clark and husband, Cyrus A. Clark, spent a few days in Honolulu on their return to the Orient.

Rev. Sydney L. Gulick made a tour of the Islands in the interest of the new America-Japan immigration policy.

The Cousins regretted that they could not offer a reception to Rev. W. H. Gulick, on Nov. 18, 1915, in honor of his eightieth birthday. We quote from a letter received too late for the Annual Meeting.

Fortuny 53,
Madrid, Spain, 18th March, 1916.

My Dear Cousins:

It seems impossible that the last of next month it will be three years since I left Honolulu. The whole episode of that short six months' visit seems either as only just terminated, or as a dream that never was real.

During the months of May and June (1913) I was in California, Oregon and Washington. From Seattle, in company with Professor Graham Taylor and a group of his social workers of the Chicago Commons, I crossed the continent to Chicago in a leisurely journey through the Canadian Rockies. It was an expedition never to be forgotten: the companions, the country, the mountains, the valleys, the lakes, the green fields, the wooded hills, the snow-capped heights, the clouds, the glaciers and the blue sky in that sweet month of July.

Lingering a little in Iowa City with my daughter Grace and her husband Dr. Paul Harrison Dike and their two boys, and in Chicago, I reached Boston and New York just in time to take passage in early September in a ship for Gibraltar.

The next nine months I spent chiefly in our Boarding Schools for girls in Madrid and Barcelona, and among our mission stations on the line west from Zarragoza to Santander. And that, in general, is my program: Madrid, Barcelona and the stations of the North.

My general health has been fair, but, singularly, after seventy-five years of entire exemption from anything of the kind, rheumatism has developed in my arms and hands. For a year my right hand has been tightly closed, and only lately have the muscles relaxed enough to allow me to hold a pen, and that with difficulty.

Last autumn I had a visit of six weeks from my daughter Elizabeth, whose husband is Mr. Lincoln of Harvard University. At the same time Grace and her family were with me on their way to Constantinople. Her husband is chief of the Department of Science of Robert College. He is now there hard at work with full classes, while Grace and the children will stay in Switzerland until the times shall become more settled.

In Spain we feel the pulsations and the heavings of the great struggle going on so near us, but thus far we have been spared the results except in the disorder of commerce and industries and in the rise of prices.

I hope that this letter may reach you in time for the Annual Meeting, but it is but a slim chance.

Most sincerely and affectionately,

WILLIAM H. GULICK.

Mrs. Robert W. Andrews.

Hall (E. O.).—We did not receive notice in time to record, last year, the marriage of Henry Austin White to Miss Ruth Ford, on Jan. 20th, 1913, at Fresno, Calif., and now Miss Anna Rachel White, born Nov. 24, 1913, asks to have her name recorded.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford F. White also have a daughter, Beatrice Ella, born Dec. 28, 1915.

Mr. Edwin O. Hall still lives in Bangor, Maine. Mr. T. Seymour Hall is president of the "Street Improvement Bond Co.," in Oakland, Calif. Mr. Philip Hall is in the employ of the Honolulu hotels, looking after tourists and conducting them to places of interest. His headquarters is at the Young Hotel. Miss Charlotte, residing with her mother in Manoa, near her sister, Mrs. Macintyre, is one of the secretaries of the Y. W. C. A., assuming her duties Jan. 1st, 1916.

Mrs. Belle Jones and Margaret are in Boston. Helen and Catherine are in Smith College. Austin Jones and family have returned to Honolulu. The Gartley girls are in Connecticut, at Miss Low's school, where they were last year. The Gartley boys are at home with their parents. Mrs. Alice Jones Lewis and family also live in beautiful Manoa, and her father, Mr. P. C. Jones, resides with them.

Hitchcock (D. H.).—D. Howard Hitchcock has been exhibiting some very fine paintings in Honolulu as well as at the Exposition in San Francisco—some views from Iao valley, Maui; Kailua Beach, Oahu, and others. His son, Joshua Dickson Hitchcock, is at the military academy at San Rafael, Calif., this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Snow are expected home soon from their trip to the Coast.

Hyde (C. M.).—No recent word has come from our beloved Mrs. Hyde. Mrs. Irene Holloway has met with a great sorrow in the death of her husband, Mr. C. Holloway. After her loss she spent some time in the States and there, in Brookline, Mass., there came to comfort her a little grandson, the child of Mr. and Mrs. George Ii Brown. Mrs. Holloway returned in February.

Ives (M.).—From H. P. Ives of Danbury, Conn., we hear that Miss M. Nellie Ives, his sister, is now making her home in Paradise, Cal., with her brother, Rev. Joseph Ives, whose wife died last year. Mr. Ives also tells of a little grand-daughter, Elvira Julia, born at No. 7 Pleasant St., Danbury, Conn., on June 22d, 1915, the daughter of Herbert Russell Ives and Bessie Marie Ives. Mr. F. H. Bennett and their three children, formerly living in Brewster, N. Y., and moving from there to Cherry Valley, N. Y., and from Cherry Valley to Rhinebeck, N. Y., are now settled in Danbury, Conn., at No. 3, Bennett Place, near the home of her father, H. P. Ives.

Johnson (E.).—Miss Frances Bindt had a very enjoyable trip to California, where she visited friends and relatives as well as the World's Fair. In the Autumn she left the Royal School, where she had taught so successfully for years, and had herself transferred to the schools of Pearl City, that she might be with her aunt, Miss Frances Johnson, much to the delight of the latter. Her brother, A. P. R. Bindt, is in the Advertiser employ, and his son, doing well at the school for the blind, in Berkeley, is hoping to spend his vacation at home. Mr. Douglas Fyfe, in business at Pearl Harbor, has his home in Honolulu.

Judd (G. P.).—Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder returned in October. Mr. Wilder is much interested in fishing at present, and is president of the Tuna Club.

Mrs. S. G. Wilder is in New York City, educating the children, Helen, Peggy and Alatau. Helen is an accomplished pianist and is taking vocal lessons. Mr. James Wilder is doing a grand work with his "Boy Scout" organization. Helen Wilder spent the Christmas tide with her mother as usual. Mrs. Laura Wilder Wight has been in California.

Mrs. Emily Cutts Judd, living at Auburndale, Massachusetts, has with her her daughter, Miss Pauahi Judd, and her grand-daughter, Catherine Judd. Two other grand-daughters, Pauahi Judd 2nd and Haunani Judd, are at boarding school, but visit their grandmother from time to time. Mrs. A. C. Farley also lives in Auburndale, and has her daughter Helen,—Mrs. Wm. Massey,—with her two children, little Helen and baby son, Wm., visiting her. So the four generations of the Judd family made an interesting group in Auburndale. Mr. and Mrs. Swanzy visited in New York City last Autumn and their daughters remained there.

Miss Nora attended the "Gilbert School of Dancing" and has just returned home. Rosamond is a pupil of Frank Dumond, at the Art Students League, having taken up painting as a career. Mrs. Swanzy is President of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association. She is also president of the Woman's Auxiliary Outrigger Canoe Club.

Mrs. A. H. B. Judd and Miss Agnes have had many outings on Oahu,—to the Peninsula, Kahala and Waialua, and on Maui, Molo-kai and Hawaii. In the meantime they make themselves useful in church and mission work, and in helping "to perpetuate the memory of the missionary fathers and mothers." A. F. Judd, trustee of the Bishop Estate, spends his spare time in advancing Puna-hou interests. His little daughters Bernice and Dorothy have been helping to fit out a little girl for Maunaolu. Dr. James Judd and wife are in charge of a red-cross hospital in France. C. S. Judd is Superintendent of Forestry in Hawaii, following Ralph Hosmer. Rev. Henry Judd is Acting Secretary of the Hawaiian Board since the death of Rev. W. B. Oleson. To Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Judd came, on May 30th, 1915, a second son, Frank Case Judd. On May 15th, at Ardmore, Penn., was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Judd a son, Gerrit Parmele Judd, Jr. Dr. J. S. B. Pratt went East in June, 1915, to see his two sons, Scott and Joshua, graduate. Scott returned to Hawaii and has a position in the Experiment Station, but Joshua lost his heart in a colder clime. Their sister Hester expects to return from her first year at Smith College for vacation.

G. R. Carter and family are spending the year in Boston, at 291 Commonwealth Avenue. The Cousins are wanting their Vice-President in Honolulu.

Kinney (H.).—Mr. Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction, has been spending his vacation in the Orient.

Loomis (E.).—Miss May Loomis, grand-daughter of the first printer to Hawaii, has removed from Ypsilanti, Mich., to Fruitland Park, Florida, where she has bought ten acres of land and put up a temporary shack, hoping to make her home there. Miss Loomis has copied parts of the journals of her grand-father and grand-mother, written on the brig Thaddeus and continued in Honolulu, from 1819-1823. She has later records if we desire them. She also sent a photograph of Mother Loomis, whose picture is not in the Missionary Album, and a hymnbook presented to her as Miss M. T. Sartwell, just before she sailed as Mrs. Loomis, in 1819. Miss Loomis is regaining her health in Florida, and if she can make good the payments on her little home, she will be well satisfied, even though it is pioneer life.

Locke (E.).—An intensely interesting letter was received in April, 1915, from Mrs. Sarah D. (Locke) Stow, a niece of missionary Edwin Locke. The letter consists largely of the genealogical history of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Locke and their four children. In 1841, the little boy, William, at the age of four years, was drowned in the Waialua river. Within a year his mother died, and the father, planning to leave the Islands in November, 1843, was taken very suddenly ill and passed away Oct. 28, 1843, at the home of Rev. Daniel Dole, at Punahou, leaving three little girls. These children returned to the United States with Rev. and Mrs. Asa B. Smith, in 1846. Two of them, Lucy and Martha, were adopted and educated by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and treated as their own. The baby, Mary, was adopted by Dr. Rowell, her mother's brother, and his wife. This letter is a valuable one as to statistics, and is being kept on file.

Lyman (D. B.).—When we record the death of Francis Ogden Lyman, it means to us another son of the Mission gone home—another original member of the Cousins' Society passed over to the Fathers and Mothers who have entered into rest. But the passing of Lieut. Clarence K. Lyman in the strength of his young manhood, so admired, so loved, so ready for life, threw a pall over the community, and the whole band of Cousins grieve with the family, the many relatives, his regiment, and his native land.

Miss Charlotte Dana Lyman was in Chicago at the time of her father's death and fortunately her brother Richard was spending his vacation with her. Their cousin David Lyman, who so recently was called to part with his own father, was "a tower of strength" to this brother and sister in their time of need. His mother, too, came to them in their sorrow. The funeral was an impressive one with the casket filled with flowers as if from his boyhood home and the trees and landscape sparkling like fairyland with the frosts of winter. Miss Charlotte has taken desk room in a studio and is at present devoting herself to art. In Chicago, Aug. 12, 1915, occurred the death of Mr. Howard Greer, Jr., the husband of Mrs. Helen C. Lyman Greer.

Mr. Ernest E. Lyman is in the employ of the Hawaiian Trust Co., and he and his wife have built a pretty bungalow on Liliha St.

Miss Kathryn I. Lyman, daughter of L. C. Lyman, is attending Punahou Academy.

Lyons (L.).—Dr. A. B. Lyons wrote the treasurer of the Chamberlain House Committee, "I enclose a contribution to the fund for the restoration of the Old Chamberlain House. It is not likely that I shall ever see it again, but I want to think of it as still standing, and as externally practically unchanged." Dr. Lyons, although obliged to take special care of himself, is able to go to and from business. Miss Lucia remains with her father and mother, but makes time for actively entering into many kinds of Christian advance work.

On Aug. 7, 1915, Albert Eddy Lyon was married at Camden, N. J., to Miss Elizabeth Schurch Langendorf. Prof. A. E. Lyon has chosen to go back to the original family name in use four generations ago—Lyon.

Mrs. C. J. Lyons had a fall some time since which rendered her quite helpless. Her daughter, Mrs. Richardson of Hilo, came to be with her, and she and her devoted sister, Mrs. Emma Lyons Doyle, cared for her constantly until the end of her suffering came. She passed peacefully away in the early morning of March 26, and her body was laid to rest amid the flowers, the music and the delightful breezes of Nuuanu Valley.

Mrs. Doyle was quite prostrated with grief and the long weeks of unceasing care, and she was persuaded to accompany her sister to her Hilo home for rest and change.

Paris (J. D.).—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Paris have been making a visit of a few weeks in Honolulu. Their son, J. Robert Paris and wife at Pearl City, have a little daughter, Persis Josephine, born Dec. 21, 1915. John Davis Paris, Jr., was married in June to Miss Edith Leilani Wall. They are living at Kealakekua, and news has just reached us of a little daughter, Agnes Kaohianohomalu Paris, born March 31st, 1916. Mrs. Mary Paris Smith has three children, Raymond Paris Smith, Alfred Whitaker Smith and Margaret Hudson Smith. They live on Makiki Heights, Honolulu.

Miss Anna M. Paris, who has been visiting Mrs. Emily Baldwin on Maui, is now in Honolulu. She is greatly grieved over the death of Mrs. Sarah Coan Waters, who was almost like a twin sister to her, born in the same house, a playmate in early childhood, and a friend through all the intervening years.

Parker (W. B.).—Miss Mary Parker celebrated her eightieth birthday on Oct. 16, 1915, and many old friends called to bid her "Godspeed" on her life journey. Had her many friends realized how the years had passed her by, leaving her with upright carriage, forceful manner and apparently in perfect physical health and vigor, there would have been many more congratulations.

Rev. H. H. Parker still dispenses the Bread of Life to the Hawaiian people from the Kawaiahao pulpit and in their homes, but all his spare time is employed in compiling the new Hawaiian dictionary ordered by the legislature.

Rice (W. H.).—Mr. W. H. Rice has been acting as substitute pastor for the Hawaiian church at Lihue while the congregation is without a permanent Hawaiian minister. The Lihue Hawaiian Sunday School is much alive with Mrs. Ralph Wilcox as superintendent, Mr. W. H. Rice, Jr., as treasurer, and Mrs. William Rice, Sr., Mrs. Charles Wilcox, Miss Elsie Wilcox and Judge Dickey as teachers. Miss Milicent Waterhouse, who is visiting her aunt Mrs. Rice, is organist for the Primary Department. Mrs. Wilcox has introduced the star system of rewards for perfect attendance, for securing new scholars, etc., and it has succeeded admirably.

Mrs. W. Hyde Rice is president of the Hui Aloha, or Hawaiian Women's Benevolent Society, which meets every Friday morning for Bible study.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Isenberg, of the German Lutheran Church, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lydgate, in charge of the English-speaking church at Lihue, are in the front rank of leaders in all Kauai improvements.

Edith and Juliet Rice, daughters of Charles A. Rice, are attending Miss Ransom's school at Piedmont, Cal.

Philip L. Rice and wife expect to return in the autumn, after he has completed his law course in the Law School of the University of Chicago.

Rogers (E. H.).—A daughter was born in Kihei, Maui, to Mrs. Zelig Rogers Cockett and her husband, J. Pia Cockett.

Rowell (G. B.).—The usual cheer that surrounds the Rowell family has again given place to minor strains of sadness and loss. But amid it all there have been three notes of gladness. There was born in El Cajon, Cal., Feb. 24, 1915, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Elsworth Rogers, a son, Robert Elsworth Rogers. Mrs. Rogers was Miss Jeannie Gay. On Feb. 4, 1916, a little daughter came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Dole, at Santa Monica, Cal., and on March 26, 1916, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford B. Dole of Riverside, Cal., became the happy parents of little Elizabeth Dole.

With the death of Mrs. Clara Rowell Dole, a part of the gladness of earth has gone at a time when the days are dark and every ray of sunshine is needed. True, she had done her part here and deserved the happy reunion in the land where all are joy-dispensers, but in her circles here she will be greatly missed, and we wonder upon whom has fallen her mantle of cheer.

And now Mr. Wm. Rowell has gone from us. The veil that has hung for years between him and his rare flowers and fruits and the beauties he was always discovering in nature, is lifted. He has opened his eyes upon scenes beyond compare. We miss his rich, hearty voice, which rang as cheery in the dark as in the brighter days, and the grasp of his hand so warm and true. It was fitting, and characteristic of Judge Dole and his wife who knew him so well, that they should honor his memory by opening their large, cheery "lanai" for the farewell services, conducted by another old friend, H. H. Parker, amid the rare flowers and the harmonious strains of "I Yield My Soul to Thee." For him the shadows of night have gone, and day has dawned.

Miss Dorothy Rowell, who so tenderly cared for her uncle, will remain for a time in Honolulu.

Shipman (W. C.).—The Misses Shipman are at home on Reeds Island, Hilo, with their father and mother. Mr. Ollie Shipman and family also live in Hilo. Mrs. Clara Shipman Fisher and husband are on a ranch at Kealakekua, and Mr. Herbert Shipman is away at school.

Smith (L.).—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham have been spending some time at the volcano of Kilauea.

Mrs. W. F. Frear, president of the Y. W. C. A., has devoted herself largely to the advancement of that institution, and her refining influence upon the lives of the women and girls of Honolulu has been very great. Her interest also in "Child Welfare," in the "Outdoor Circle," and in "Baby Week" has been of the practical kind.

Mrs. Erdman's helpfulness has been very closely connected with that of her husband, Rev. J. P. Erdman, in the Hawaiian Board, but she is also an active worker in the Women's Society of Central Union Church and in the Woman's Board of Missions. On Feb. 20, 1916, a little daughter, Jean Marion, gladdened the Erdman home.

On Sept. 21, 1915, a son, John Henley Dillingham, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Dillingham in Honolulu.

Smith (J. W.).—Miss Emma Smith, when sending her contribution for the restoration of the old Chamberlain House, said she was glad to send to so worthy an object. She had many times been cordially entertained by the Chamberlain family, and had many pleasant associations with the dear old home. She had also attended a number of meetings of the Cousins held there, and hopes it may be made as attractive to future members of the Society as it was in the past. "It certainly will be most interesting as a museum of missionary furniture, and of great value as a place of deposit for records, letters and archives belonging to the early missionaries."

Mr. Wm. Waterhouse did an excellent thing for Honolulu when he brought the evangelists, Brown and Curry, here last December, to stir up the churches and people to good works. Dr. A. H. Waterhouse is in Koloa, Kauai, and Miss Milicent is visiting now at Lihue.

Of W. O. Smith's family, the eldest son, C. H. Smith, is in Rome. Ethel, Mrs. Harry Baldwin of Maui, is now in the States. Kathrine, Mrs. Sam Baldwin, is on Maui with her lovely little family. Lorrin Smith and his family are also on Maui. On April 11, 1916, a second son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorrin Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith are still in charge of the Lunalilo Home. Their daughter Alice is at the Teacher's College, Columbia, N. Y. Raymond W. Smith lives on Makiki Heights. He and Mrs. Smith have two little boys and a baby girl. The latter, Margaret Hudson Smith, was born in January, 1916.

Thurston (A.).—Lorrin A. Thurston spends much time on the big island. He has been retained as general manager of the "Hawaii Consolidated Railway, Limited," while the old company's business is being straightened out. A. F. Judd is secretary of the new corporation. Mrs. Thurston went to Hilo before the holidays to meet her sister and family on the "Great Northern" and bring them home with her for a few months' visit. Mrs. Thurston is vice-president of the Outdoor Circle, in which she is greatly interested. Robert Thurston is one of the busy young men at the Planters' Experiment Station. Margaret Thurston graduated at the Dana Hall school at Wellesley, visited on her way home, and is busy this year at the College of Hawaii, devoting herself especially to botany.

Mr. Kluegel has been consulting engineer on the wonderful Waiahole tunnel, three miles long, through the Koolau mountains, and estimated to deliver 125,000,000 gallons of water daily to the Oahu plantation. Mrs. Kluegel has become an angel of comfort in many sick rooms. Miss May has spent six months on the Coast, but is expected home in the summer. Mr. Harry Kluegel is on an important engineering project at Denver, Colorado.

Miss May Winne has been promoted to the place of Associate Principal of Punahou Preparatory and will be Acting Principal during Mr. Fitts six months' leave of absence next year. Miss Winne is especially busy this year in gathering reminiscent items for the 75th Anniversary. Miss Jane Winne is at the Chicago University but is expected home this summer. We are more than glad to enter the names of Mary, Jane and James Winne as Cousins, as they are descendants of the Pioneer company.

Tinker (R.).—Mrs. Mary Tinker Harvey writes, "My address is unchanged. There is, however, a new number on life's milestone, or rather an older one, as since Jan. 23, 1916, it says 77, and whichever way I read it, it's just the same. But why wish to turn back the wheels of time since 'it's better farther on'? Last Autumn my brother Joseph was ill and for a time it seemed quite doubtful whether he would pull through, but his good constitution came to his aid, and though not very strong he is once more on his feet. He will probably never preach again, but is thankful to be able to attend services in the little chapel near his home. He was 83 this past January, and this was the first illness in his long life. Good for Hawaii as a native land!" Mrs. Harvey is making her niece, Miss Marina Louise Purdon, a Cousin. Miss Purdon has never visited the Islands but hopes that pleasure may be hers soon.

Van Duzee (W. S.).—The death of Miss Mary Van Duzee, who returned from Urumia, Persia, about two years ago, is recorded elsewhere. Her sister Grace, with whom she lived, has been very sick and feels her loss deeply.

A letter from Miss Cyrene Vanduzee gives interesting items from which we quote the following: "Father and Mother were always telling of life on the Sandwich Islands and names used to be familiar to me, but as I went to Turkey in 1868 my memory has grown dull about many of the missionaries. Father and Mother were alone when sister Harriet died of cholera infantum, Mother was sick of cholera morbus at the time, and Father not well." They were stationed at Kaawaloa. "My parents sent a marble stone for Harriet's grave." "Father and Mother were six months coming home on a whaleship, and I was born two months later. As I remember from their telling me, Sereno Bishop came back with them—a boy of thirteen years. They were nearly captured once by pirates, and Mother put on some of Father's clothes."

“Tell Mrs. Bishop that I remember Mr. Bishop’s visiting our home when I was perhaps twelve or fourteen years old. He said to Mother as he left, he ‘hoped he might say goodbye to her a good many times more,’ and I thought it an odd expression, but now I think it was a very nice way of hoping to meet her many times. That is all I remember of his visit.”

“I have seen three of the Gulick brothers at our home—John, William and Theodore.” “I am growing nice and strong after my stroke and am not crippled at all. God gave back my left hand in answer to prayer.”

Wetmore (C. H.).—Dr. Frances M. Wetmore was in California for several months during the past year, but is now living in the old home. Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Lewis—Mrs. Lucy Wetmore Lewis—still live in Oakland, Calif.

Mrs. Catherine W. Deacon and her unmarried son, Sheldon, live on their ranch near Davis, California. Charles W. Deacon, with his wife and two small daughters, live in Santa Barbara, Calif. The youngest son, Clyde Deacon, his wife and little boy are at Placerville, Calif.

Whitney (S.).—Mr. H. M. Whitney shows his interest in the Society by sending a donation to the Chamberlain House fund, and hopes the efforts in this direction may meet with great success. It surely is a joy to write the name of Mrs. Ranney Scott as a Cousin, for she has been with us in heart and helpfulness, and is a descendant of Samuel and Mercy Whitney of the brig Thaddeus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodale have been spending some time in town. Their children, Lieut. and Mrs. Rawson Warren, have left Schofield for some point on the mainland. The Goodales have been enjoying a visit from Mrs. Ella Goodale Howard and her husband. Mrs. Howard is one of the Goodale twins, and her twin-brother, David Goodale, is still on the old farm that has been in the family for two hundred years. This is her first visit and she thoroughly enjoys Hawaii and her father’s old friends.

Wilcox (A.).—A. S. Wilcox, in response to the C. H. committee’s letter, asked that his donation be applied to the restoration of the Chamberlain House, as he had already given to the Memorial Building. Mrs. Ralph and Miss Elsie Wilcox are doing a progressive work in the Lihue native Sunday School, and Miss Elsie, as secretary of the Kauai Historical Society, must find her spare time fully employed in searching for and recording the interesting items. It is pleasing to hear of little Sam, son of C. H. and Marion Waterhouse Wilcox, Alice and Albert, children of Mr. and Mrs.

Gaylord Wilcox, and the younger Rice children attending a two-hour session day-school. Miss Mabel Wilcox and Miss Ethel Damon have been traveling together in the States, spending some time in Chicago. They are expected home this summer.

ADOPTED COUSINS.

Bowen—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen have so woven themselves into the hearts of the people—in society, in church and in business, that a prospective year's absence throws a shadow over the city. Among other places they will visit Oberlin, their old home; New York, where Mr. Spencer Bowen and wife, and the little grand-daughter, await them; and as Mr. Bowen has been appointed the "official delegate of the Honolulu Young Men's Christian Association to the Thirty-ninth International Convention of the Association of North America," he expects to be in Cleveland, Ohio, from May 12th to May 16th of this year.

Beckwith—Lovely remembrance cards, recalling olden times, were received from Mrs. Harriet G. Beckwith and Miss Mary at the Christmas season. They are in Brooklyn still.

Church—Mrs. Frances L. Church writes that she received the much-valued Annual Report and was greatly interested in the new enterprise—the refitting of the Chamberlain House and erection of the Memorial Building. Her home is in the same block with the Tank Home, Oberlin, and she had become interested in Augusta and Paul Delaporte before their parents arrived. Now she is quite well acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Delaporte.

Crawford—Mrs. Harriet Sturges Crawford writes, "I remember, with much affection and interest, the Chamberlain House, and hope your plan will be carried out with great success. I am sending through my daughter, Mrs. Reeder.

Furneaux—Mr. Charles Furneaux, in his lifetime, was accustomed to give $25 a year to the Cousins, and in his will he provided that this yearly gift should continue after the death of his wife. This is the first yearly bequest since Mrs. Furneaux passed away, and President Judd thinks it appropriate that it should go to the re-fitting of the Chamberlain House.

Gilman—A wedding occurred at the home of our cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gilman, on June 18, 1915, when their daughter Marjorie became Mrs. Percy Hastings Nottage.

Lowrey—A son, Dwight Lowrey, was welcomed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Dwight Lowrey, on Aug. 27, 1915.

Mrs. F. J. Lowrey has opened her beautiful house and grounds many times this year for the use of the Outdoor Circle. This society has undertaken great things, and the efficiency and perseverance of the women have already accomplished much throughout the city.

Oleson—Mrs. Wm. B. Oleson is now living at White Plains, N. Y., next door to her daughter Mrs. Elder. Miss Alice Oleson has her home with her mother, and with a commutation ticket goes back and forth to business in New York City. She is traveling secretary for The Children's Playground Society, and her duties call her to nearby cities and will, no doubt, eventually take her throughout the United States. Mrs. Rachel Oleson Ewing, with her husband and three little children, lives in Worcester, Mass., near her eldest brother, Mr. Edward P. Oleson. Mrs. Ewing's only little daughter was born this year. Mr. D. L. Oleson still lives in Honolulu.

Paulding—Miss Paulding, former principal of Kawaihau Seminary, has been transferred from Kamiah to Spalding, Idaho. She writes, "I am fifty miles from Kamiah but still among the Nez Perce Indians. Our agent felt that some of the Indians about here needed help toward cleaner, more sanitary ways of living. It is slow work. I have no authority to compel them to clean up—can only advise and suggest. In some cases I sweep myself.

This place was named for Mr. Spalding, one of the first missionaries to the Nez Perce. He and his wife are both buried here. An Indian Presbyterian church is located here—the only church in the town. The minister, Rev. Mark Arthur, is a very fine man, an Indian. These people were bereaved last fall by the death of Miss Kate McBeth, their missionary for thirty-six years. They all loved and respected her and looked upon her as a mother. She was wise and kind, and the tribe owes much of its advancement to her. Her niece, Miss Crawford, has been associated with her for twenty years and has been appointed her successor by the Mission Board. Miss McBeth was eighty-three years old when she passed away.

I spent most of August in San Francisco, visiting the Fair with my two sisters. I spent one day with Miss Jane Johnson in San Jose, soon after the death of her sister, Mrs. Smith. She was sick at the time, very weak and limp with what she thought was nervous prostration. She said she had no disease, and felt confident that she would be well in time to visit the Fair before it closed. It was sad that the three sisters should all go within a year."

Smith—Mrs. Luella Bates Smith writes to Mr. Wilder, treasurer of Chamberlain House committee: "My dear Samuel G. Wilder—for whoever you really are, the name brings hosts of memories to myself, who counted Sam Wilder of my generation an ever-true friend, and who never forgot for me or mine, that a Cousin is like a button and its button-hole, which, no matter if separated, has always a connecting link ready when brought to view. So the name inspires this note from one you do not remember even as a tale that is told. * * * I have lived in San Francisco for fifty-one years, but Hawaii! Who ever forgets her? This Exposition year I have heard each group of singers, and have lived over sweet hours that never can be repeated in the new conditions. Now as to my interest. It is intense, and I am anxious to send something that will button me to my old friends when rambling through the old rooms. * * * I have stored away, untouched by our great 1906 fire, when we all lost everything, the tiny chair my father, Judge Asher B. Bates, had made for me in New York in 1846, and I used coming round Cape Horn to Honolulu, in the good ship "Matilda." I've often thought I'd like to send it when all is ready, if you think it would be acceptable. Let me know and I will have it found and put in needed repair."

Thompson—Miss Alice Thompson, assistant chemist at the Hawaii Experiment Station, has made an enviable record among agricultural scientists, and was transferred in January to the United States Bureau of Chemistry in Washington.

Tuthill—Mrs. Beulah Logan Tuthill, president of the Illinois Branch of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Interior, writes to the president of the H. M. C. Soc., "My dear Miss Judd—I have been thinking that it is about time for the Annual Meeting of the Children's Society. I always enjoy the reports so much. In another year we are planning a trip to Japan and China. So perhaps we will stop long enough in Hawaii to see some of the old friends. This evening we start for Florida and stop in Cincinnati long enough to see Mrs. Benham, and take her daughter Julia with us. Mrs. Benham is one of my dearest mothers. I have heard her tell of her delightful trip to Honolulu some years ago and her love for your father and mother. I just wanted to send a word of greeting to the Cousins and to make my small son a member. He bears the name which will identify him as the grandson of a man who was well known in Honolulu and much loved.

My part in life is to train him to be worthy of that name and to do all in his power to help the cause which has been so dear to that family. As you see by the letterhead I am a very busy woman, with a great responsibility resting upon me. * * Let me know the next time you pass through Chicago, that we may renew the friendship of years gone by when your father and mother did so many lovely things for us."

Waterhouse—The return of Dr. Ernest Waterhouse and family, in March, from their stay on the Malay Peninsula, gave great pleasure to their many friends in Honolulu. They arrived just in time to attend the wedding of Dr. Waterhouse's youngest sister, Margaret. She was married on March 25th to Mr. Robert Clement Walker of Honolulu, formerly of Scotland. Mr. Walker is to be congratulated.

IN MEMORIAM.

Miss Mary Jane Alexander.—In the death of Mary Jane Alexander, which took place on August 22nd, 1915, at San Francisco, the Mission Children's Society has suffered a distinct loss. She was the eldest daughter of Rev. William P. Alexander and his wife Mary, who came to the Islands in 1832. Hers was a very interesting family, all the members of which were closely identified with social life in Hawaii. The brothers were: William D. Alexander, L.L.D., the Hawaiian historian; Rev. James M. Alexander, author of "The Islands of the Pacific;" Samuel T. Alexander, the father of irrigation in the Islands and the head of Alexander & Baldwin; Henry M. Alexander and Charles H. Alexander, both identified with sugar culture in its infancy. These have all passed away. The sisters who still survive her are Mrs. Emily A. Baldwin of Maui, Mrs. Charles H. Dickey of Honolulu, and Mrs. Charlotte A. Ferreri of Milan, Italy.

Miss Alexander was born at Waioli, Kauai, where her father was a missionary, and spent her childhood at Lahainaluna and Wailuku to which places he was transferred later. She was very precocious, reading fluently at the age of three. She received her education at the Royal School and Punahou, finishing at Packer Institute, New York. She was a very apt scholar, excelling especially in mathematics and languages. She read extensively and remembered what she read to a remarkable degree.

She was a great traveller, making one trip around the world, one around the Horn, a number of trips to Europe, where her knowledge of modern language was of great assistance, a trip to Alaska, and many voyages to and from California and Hawaii. After her graduation she took up teaching as a profession, doing service in that work in Honolulu, Hilo and Oakland, California. She made her home in the latter city with her brother Samuel during the later years of her life. Before her death she was planning trips to Panama and South America.

Miss Alexander was exceedingly energetic. She belonged to many social and charitable clubs and societies, among which were the Ebell Club, the Town and County Club, the Public Service Club and the Oakland Center of the California Civic League. She was a Daughter of the American Revolution and a Daughter of Hawaii. She was actively engaged in numerous local charities, such as the Cottage Homes Association, the Oakland Social Settlement and the charities of the First Congregational Church of Oakland, of which she was a member. In her various visits to the Islands her energy was evinced in the organization of the Makawao Literary Society, the Book Club of Maui and the Reading Club of Makawao, all of which survive. She took great interest in the problems of the day, keeping in full touch with the passage of events. She was a great admirer of Theodore Roosevelt and hoped to see him President again some day.

Miss Alexander was buried beside her father, mother and brother in the beautiful Piedmont Cemetery.

She had clear judgment and a strong sense of justice. She was very charitably inclined and gave liberally to benevolences. She was a loyal friend, a loving sister and daughter and a sympathiser with all in distress. She will be missed by all who knew her.

C. H. D.

Mrs. Caroline Hannah Clark Austin was born at Lahainaluna June 26, 1836, and passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Baker in Kealahakua, Hawaii, on the 29th of April, 1915. Her education was obtained in these islands at Punahou and at the Royal School under Rev. Edward G. Beckwith.

She was married in 1856, at the home of her father, Rev. E. W. Clark, then pastor of Kawaihāo Church, to Mr. Stafford L. Austin of Buffalo, N. Y., a resident of Hilo.

For some time after their marriage Mr. Austin was Acting Governor of the Island of Hawaii, under the Governess Ruth, and later was Circuit Judge of the Island. Mrs. Austin usually accompanied the Judge, riding on horseback, as her husband made his stated circuit to hold court, first on one side, and then on the other side of the Island.

An eventful portion of the life of this enterprising couple was that when Mr. Austin founded, and carried on to success, the Onomea Sugar Plantation, lying seven miles northward of the city of Hilo.

To Judge and Mrs. Austin were given six sons and one daughter who mourn the departure of a most loving and faithful mother, one whom to know was to love and honor. Three of their sons, Frank H. Austin, Stafford W. Austin, and Ephraim W. Austin, reside in California, while two sons, Herbert C. Austin and Jonathan C. Austin, and the daughter, Mrs. Harriet A. Baker, are living on Hawaii.

After her husband's death, which occurred in 1896, Mrs. Austin came to Honolulu and resided with a son and daughter in the metropolis. Here for a time she served as a Deaconess of Central Union Church, of which she was a member, and in which capacity she endeared herself to many of this large and growing church. She was well known, honored and loved by the residents of Hilo as well as by her many friends in Honolulu. Hers was a loving, generous spirit, and whether on the plantation at Onomea, or in her home, either in Hilo or Honolulu, her heart and home were open to all who needed help and sympathy. She always looked upon the best side of all about her, and never failed to expect joy and happiness in every coming day.

Within a year her brother, Dr. Albert B. Clark, passed on to the further shore, and of the family of seven but two sisters, Mrs. O. H. Gulick and Mrs. L. Severance, remain to mourn their loss. For her "to live was Christ, to die was gain."

Charles R. Bishop died in Berkeley, Cal., June 7, 1915.

Charles Reed Bishop was born at Glenn Falls, N. Y., a picturesque village on the Hudson. Early orphaned he made his home with his sturdy, faithful New England grand-parents, and attended the local grammar school. At the age of fifteen he left home and worked in a country store. In the little village of Sandy Hill he became salesman and bookkeeper. Here he formed a lasting friendship with William L. Lee, of the University of Norwich and Harvard Law School. Together they planned to go West and grow up with the country, Oregon being the mecca of their hopes. They set sail on Feb. 23, 1846, from Newburyport on the little brig "Henry," hoping to reach their destination in July. But in October the storm-tossed, leaking vessel dropped anchor in Honolulu harbor in search of provisions. Bishop and Lee decided to remain in Honolulu for a few months. Lee began practicing law and soon became judge and then Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Mr. Bishop became secretary to the U. S. consul, an important and lucrative position in those whaling days. In 1849 the California gold-fever reached Honolulu, and Bishop wished to go to this Eldorado but was prevented by his affection for Lee. Soon after this he became Collector of Customs for the kingdom, and afterward engaged for five years in mercantile business with W. A. Aldrich as partner. The whaling industry was then in its prime, and need was felt for a bank with its deposits, loans and exchanges, and the firm of "Bishop & Co." was organized. "A small room was rented and Mr. Bishop acted as bookkeeper, cashier, paying teller and janitor." As he was trusted by natives and foreigners alike the business prospered.

In the meantime Mr. Bishop had fallen in love with Princess Bernice Pauahi Paki, which love was ardently reciprocated, and on June 4, 1850, they were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cooke in the Royal School. Mr. Bishop was offered the place of Minister of Finance by Kamehameha IV, which he declined. In 1860 he was made a nobleman and a life member of the upper house of the legislature. At the death of Kamehameha V Mrs. Bishop was offered the throne but did not accept. When Lunalilo became king Mr. Bishop was urged by prominent citizens and by the king himself to join his cabinet, and he became Minister of Foreign Affairs.

"In 1884 Mrs. Bishop died, leaving an estate valued at $3,000,000, which was turned over to the trustees of the Kamehameha Schools for the young people of Hawaii."

Mr. Bishop built the famous $1,000,000 Bishop Museum in memory of his wife, and left nearly $750,000 in a fund for the support of the museum and schools. As a trustee of Punahou Academy he gave to that school, besides endowments, the Scientific Building, Pauahi Hall, and C. R. Bishop Building.

In 1894 Mr. Bishop sold his interests in Hawaii and moved to San Francisco.

Rev. Parker said of him, "Mr. Bishop was upright, straightforward and honest. There was no fuss, no sham, no double-dealing about him. His word could always be depended upon. He was always loyal to the right; he never believed in doing wrong that right might come."

Isaiah Bray, born in Chelsea, Mass., Aug. 20, 1844, of godly parents, was an only son with three sisters. At the age of four years, the family moved to the old paternal homestead at Yarmouthport, Cape Cod, where his boyhood was spent in doing farm chores before and after a two-mile daily walk to and from the village grammar and high school, from which he graduated. At the age of seventeen the inherited love for the sea called loudly and he started forth, with the father's admonition that, if he never took the first glass of intoxicating liquor, he would never become a drunkard; and the mother's assurance that he could never get to any part of land or sea where her prayers would not reach him. The first glass was never taken!

Beginning as green boy, he rose so rapidly in his chosen calling that at the early age of twenty-six he was given command of one of the largest clipper merchant ships sailing from Boston. That as well as all the others was made a Bethel ship, for one night, at the age of nineteen, when Christ—in the form of a tract given him by a sister and a letter written by a friend (Miss Hosea)—came walking on the water to him, and when no other on board recognized such a Person, this boy did, and accepted Him as Savior and Pilot of his future life. His mother's prayers were answered.

When he received his coveted title, Miss Hosea consented to share "Captain" Bray's honors and they were married June 8, 1871.

In 1875, on a return voyage from the Philippine Islands to New York, Capt. Bray stopped at Ascension Island (Ponape), and found white missionaries there. This was his first introduction to Mr. and Mrs. Logan and he then became interested in missionary work; although, when but a Sunday School boy he had taken a share in the first Morning Star he had said, when he grew up he wanted to become its captain. Following this voyage two years were spent in Boston and much time was given to evangelistic work, as a helper to Mr. D. L. Moody, in one of his campaigns. Thus, he was prepared to recognize the voice of the Lord when he was asked to command the third Morning Star.

After service from 1878 to 1883, a year's leave of absence was spent in the States, helping raise money to build the fourth Morning Star, which he commanded until 1886. He then became General Secretary of the Oakland, Cal., Y. M. C. A., which position he filled for about five years, leaving a new $60,000 building as a material evidence of faithful work—how many young men he helped spiritually he may now know. Two trips more were made to Micronesia, when Capt. Bray again made a family home on land, for what proved to be the remaining years of life—seven as superintendent of the Honolulu Sailors' Home, and eight and one-half as Pilot in the U. S. M. H. Service, from which ill-health caused his withdrawal.

The last six weeks of life were very happy ones, for his Savior was a very real Presence to him. On April 2, 1915, he was ready to follow his beloved Pilot across the bar, into the eternal Haven of rest. He leaves a widow and daughter to rejoice in the memory of a good husband and father.

C. E. B.

In Memory of Lydia Bingham Coan, who passed from Human Sight, August 31st, 1915, aged 80 years and 8 months.

In the death of Mrs. Coan we miss from among the Cousins a wholly unique and lovable character. The only surviving child of Rev. Hiram Bingham, the pioneer missionary, and widow of the much-beloved missionary of Hilo, Hawaii, Dr. Titus Coan, she bore two of the most honored names in the annals of missions.

Lydia Bingham was born in the Old Mission House on King Street in Honolulu Christmas Day, 1834. On her 80th birthday, Dec. 25th, 1914, the Cousins arranged a reception for her in the home in which she was born, and a delightful gathering of Cousins and old friends greeted the stately lady of four-score years.

When Lydia was five years old the health of her parents obliged them to leave this loved mission field, and with their three youngest children return to the Eastern States. Not being able to gather their family together for many years, the sensitive child was obliged to spend all the years of her childhood among strangers, living a lonely and sad life, of which she always hesitated to speak.

At seventeen she graduated from a famous school in New Haven, Conn., and immediately took up the responsible and for her loved work of a teacher. In this she was most successful, and was much in demand. When Kawaiahao Seminary was started in Honolulu in 1867, Lydia Bingham was at once selected as the fit person to undertake this pioneer work. Leaving a position of much honor, and to which she was devoted, in Cincinnati, Ohio, she took the long journey "around the Horn" in a sailing vessel and willingly entered upon the task of organizing the first boarding school for native girls in Hawaii.

How well Miss Bingham laid the foundations of Kawaiahao Seminary is well known to us all. With the school in a flourishing condition in 1873 she resigned it into the hands of her sister, Miss Elizabeth K. Bingham, and became the wife of Dr. Titus Coan, of Hilo, Hawaii. "Emerald Bower," as they called their Hilo home, was a place of many hospitalities, and for nine years, with the delightful Dr. Coan, Mrs. Coan enjoyed the many social, literary and pastoral experiences of missionary life.

After the death of Dr. Coan in 1882, she returned to Honolulu to enter into the home of her brother, Dr. Hiram Bingham, Jr., in Punahou, near the old home of the Bingham family. When Dr. Bingham died in 1908 the American Board gladly gave her a life tenure of the Bingham home, called "Gilbertina," where with the loving ministrations of her devoted niece, Miss Kate Reynolds, she happily passed her declining years.

On Tuesday, Aug. 14, 1915, Mrs. Coan took a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia. Though this disease was soon arrested the frail body could not bear the strain of recovery, and on August 31st Mrs. Coan entered into the rest for which she had long been waiting.

As was appropriate, the funeral services were held in Kawaia-hao Church, conducted by her pastor Dr. Scudder, and the ashes were laid in the beautiful mission grounds of Kawaiaha'o Cemetery, by the side of brothers and sisters and many others whom she had known and loved.

Mary Stangenwald Waterhouse Corbett, daughter of Henry and Mrs. Waterhouse, was born in Honolulu on Oct. 27th, 1871. She was a bright ray of sunshine, full of life and spirits, and sweet temper. I remember once, when her mother feared vivacity would carry her too far, her Grandmother Dimond saying, "Don't fear; she will need all her spirits before she comes to the end of life's journey."

When quite young she gave herself to God, uniting with the Church in 1884.

Most of her school life was passed at Punahou; but in 1887 she went to Oberlin, where she studied for three years.

On May 1st, 1895, she was married to David Watson Corbett. The little boy who brightened their home only lived eight years.

She suffered a great deal, the cause of which was not discovered till an operation was performed in St. Luke's Hospital, New York. The operation was successful; but she had not strength to rally and she died a week later, April 9th, 1915.

Francis Williams Damon was born almost at the same time as the "Cousins' Society." On the morning of June 22, 1915, he passed beyond our sight and touch. Surely a more cousinly "Cousin" never walked and worked among us. To every one of us, to every one of all our varying races and creeds, to every stranger who even contemplated touching our shore, he called a strong, cheery welcome, stretching wide his hands, his heart, his home.

In the inevitable pain of separation we yet think more of that eager, restless spirit as untrammelled now, as free to carry its great work on beyond our human vision. For surely no one ever suffered more sharply from the hindrance of physical limitations, his keen, scholarly, prophetic mind only too often far outstripping the endurance of body and brain.

The third son of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Chenery Damon, he became in turn a "townie" at Punahou, an Amherst student, and once again a Punahou-ite in the capacity of French and German teacher to the youngsters he had played with a few years before. Yet, though his later life was spent in building schools for others, among them our Mid-Pacific Institute and Free Kindergarten Association, his own training came very largely from the wide-open books of life itself. Born into the romantic period of the Hawaiian Mission when after thirty years of buffeting, contrary winds and sowing seed ungrudgingly, the whole nation seemed to have budded and flowered into conversion, he caught the enthusiasm of its spirit in distant China. It was by way of China that he made his way home after several years of service as attache at the Hawaiian Embassy in Berlin, and it was for the salvation of the Chinese that his soul ever after burned within him. His particular work was as pastor among our Hawaiian Chinese, but neither he nor his devoted wife was confined to one or even two or three races. Thousands rise up to bless the name of Frank Damon.

Clara Rowell Dole was born at Waimea, Kauai, where she lived a happy home life with her brothers and sisters, taught by her mother until she went to Koloa to attend the Rev. Daniel Dole's School, where her sweet nature won her friends in her teacher and schoolmaster. She was strong and active physically, and especially expert in gymnastic exercises, to the wonder and admiration of the girls of her age. She remained in the school at Koloa for several years. Later, with her sister Marion, she went to Mills School in Benicia, Cal. Not long after her return from there she was married to George H. Dole. The marriage was happy and congenial. Ten sons and three daughters were born to them, with the strong physique inherited from both parents. In her training of all these children she had need of her strong common sense and the power to grasp the essentials and omit the non-essentials, as the care of the children devolved on herself. She did not forget that she also required recreation, and each afternoon would take a long walk or a long drive with five or six of the younger children seated in the back of the wagon, and herself driving a pair of horses up and down the hills and valleys in the neighborhood. Her reading was not neglected, and usually there were friends who read with her at stated times. All this with her sweet, well-balanced nature and her attractive blond type, kept her young looking.

When the family had all outgrown infancy she was able to join a woman's club and a gymnasium. She also began the study of German, in which she made much more progress than the average person who makes the attempt to learn it.

As the family grew the young people scattered from home to their business or colleges, and each Sunday afternoon for many years was devoted to writing a long letter, a mimeograph copy of which went to each absent member of her family,—her own children and her brother's and sister's.

The death of her husband and that of her sister Marion saddened her last years. Though she kept up her accustomed round of occupations the zest had gone from life, and her strength began to wane. Her cordial manner and genuine interest in her friends, both old and new, had given her a large circle who deeply sympathize with her children and sisters in their loss.

Dr. N. B. Emerson died at sea July 15, 1915, on the passage from Seattle to San Francisco.

Nathaniel Bright Emerson, son of John S. and Ursula S. N. Emerson, was born July 1, 1839, in the old mission home in Waialua. From 1849 to 1861 he attended Punahou, where he was prepared for college under President E. G. Beckwith. In 1861 he sailed for the East by way of the Isthmus and entered Williams College. Enlisting a year later as a private soldier in the First Massachusetts Volunteers, he took part in the battles of Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, in both of which he was wounded, but rejoined his company before the battle of Gettysburg, and served until the regiment was mustered out at the end of the war. He then returned to Williams to complete his college course, receiving from his alma mater the degrees of A. B. 1865 and A. M. 1868.

Two years of study at Harvard Medical School, followed by two years at the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons (now a part of Columbia University), gave him his diploma in 1869, and he then engaged in the practice of medicine in New York City. He returned to Hawaii in 1878, at the call of the Hawaiian Board of Health, where he was appointed General Inspector of Lepers and Leper Stations, and after an interval of private practice President of the Board of Health 1887-1890. His longest term of public service was as Police Surgeon of Honolulu, a position which he held twenty-one years.

A member of many societies, medical, patriotic, sociological and historical, he had an especially warm aloha for the Cousins' Society and twice served as its president.

Deeply versed in Hawaiian folklore and intimately acquainted with the language, he was pre-eminently qualified for the task which he set himself, of collecting and translating the myths, legends and poetry of the ancient Hawaiians, an "unwritten literature" hitherto only preserved in the memories of a race fast passing away. After the publication of his last book, "Pele and Hiiaka," he felt free to take the ocean voyage to which he had long been looking forward, hoping to find in it renewed health as well as enjoyment. The trip to Alaska appealed to his imagination, and it is evident that its realization surpassed his anticipations. A few personal words from a letter written while on the inland trip might interest the Cousins:

"Here we are (Arthur and I) forging along in this wonderful part of the world on our way to Alaska. Green, pine-clad mountains to right and left of us, some of them snow-capped, and snow-patched fiords, penetrating to their very heart—islands bristling with pine and cedar, like the fur or bristles on the back of an angry beast. We go twisting and turning from side to side as we thread our way through these narrow channels. All praise to the pilot who steers us. Though I cannot say

We were the first that ever burst
Into that silent sea.

The impression is almost as if that were true."

Philip Foster Frear, the fifth child of the family, was born Oct. 10, 1869, in Santa Cruz, California, where his father, the Reverend Walter Frear was pastor.

The ten years from Christmas Day, 1870, to June, 1881, he spent in Honolulu during his father's pastorate in the old Fort Street Church. A happy Punahou boy, he has left many associates to recall his merry childhood.

Hopkins Academy, Oakland, California, and the Dental College of the State University at Berkeley gave him his later preparation for his professional life.

In 1895 he married Miss Susan Smith of Oakland, California.

After practicing dentistry for some time in his native state, Dr. Frear came to Honolulu to be associated with Dr. J. M. Whitney, but he soon began to build up a successful practice for himself.

Dr. Frear took great pleasure in the home which he owned, and was a true "kamaaina." Though not robust in health, Dr. Frear was ever a lover of outdoor life and found his chief recreation in the mountains and the sea which together encircle Honolulu. Often reserved and silent, he was at times vivacity itself, the life of many a party, a genial host, a favorite guest. Perhaps no Islander of his generation had more devoted friends than he. He had, indeed, "the genius to be loved."

Broken in health two years before his death, he returned to his parents in California, where he died June 21, 1915. His widow remains in Honolulu, the city he loved so long.

Judge Jacob Hardy, who died at Lihue, Kauai, August 8, 1915, was a scion of Puritan stock, from the old town of Danvers, next door to Salem, Mass. He was the youngest of three brothers; and to him came the advantage of schooling—in Phillips Academy, Andover, and the first year of college at Amherst. The result was a love for books and philosophy manifest through all his life.

Young Mr. Hardy came out "around the Horn" in the same ship with his favorite cousin, a bride, and her husband, John H. Wood. He found employment with John T. Gower of Makawao; and was installed as manager and factotum of a small sugar plantation with a wooden mill, at Lanikahua, just north of the great Maliko gulch. While living there he became acquainted with Elizabeth Andrews, who was visiting in the family of Rev. J. S. Green, and to her he was afterward married.

In Honolulu he became one of the clerks of Dr. G. P. Judd, Minister of Finance, the office being in the so-called Pelly Place, about where the Y. M. C. A. building now stands. In 1854 he accepted the circuit judgeship of the island of Kauai, and took his young family there, residing and also holding court at Malumalu, near one of the famous old kukui groves of Lihue.

In 1863, at the invitation of his brother, he moved to California, and became secretary of the very rich Union Copper Mine of Calaveras county; and later, in San Francisco, he carried on a book and stationery store, and afterward, with partners, a real estate business. After fourteen years of this varied and not wholly profitable experience, he returned to Kauai under appointment as judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit. He lived at Koloa for a number of years, and then changed his residence to Lihue, where the court house was located. There he lived and wrought through the long afternoon of his life—a Christian citizen, an upright judge, and a guide, philosopher and friend of many about him. Judge Hardy was married twice, and had six children, four of whom survive him.

Francis Ogden Lyman died of pneumonia in Florida, December 16, 1915.

Francis Ogden Lyman was born in Hilo, Hawaii, August 9, 1846. He was the youngest son of David Belden and Sarah Joiner Lyman. He attended Punahou School, later Phillips Exeter Academy, and was graduated from Harvard University in 1871 and from the Law School in 1874. He was a member of the famous Harvard crew which rowed against Oxford in 1869. Following his graduation he went to Chicago, where his brothers, the late Dr. Henry M. Lyman and David B. Lyman, were already located, and the remainder of his life was spent there. He never returned to the Islands, even for a visit, so occupied was he always with business interests in his adopted city. For twenty-six years he was senior member of the real estate firm of Lyman & Patton, and he was among the so-called pioneers of the beautiful suburb of Winnetko, where he lived from 1881 to 1905. In 1876 he married Ruth Charlotte Dana, daughter of Richard Henry Dana of Boston, author of "Two Years Before the Mast." Mrs. Lyman died in 1903. Two children survive,—Charlotte Dana Lyman and Richard Dana Lyman.

Mr. Lyman had been suffering from nervous exhaustion for several months before his death and was advised by his physician to seek a complete change and rest in Florida. After some delay, he finally left Chicago on Dec. 13th for Micco, a small town on the west coast of Florida, where he was to join a friend. Although suffering from a bad cold when starting he despatched three postal cards to his daughter en route, reporting himself as feeling better, and full of enthusiasm over the beautiful and varied scenery he was passing through. He reached his destination on the evening of the 15th, was met by his friend, and taken to his hotel. He appeared vigorous and cheerful and was delighted with the outlook from the hotel, the many flowering trees and shrubs about him, and the prospect of a long rest in such an enchanting spot. He talked very entertainingly during the evening of his early life, and retired at an early hour. During the night his hosts were startled by his spells of coughing, and going to him found him a very ill man. A doctor and nurse were summoned by telegraph from the nearest town. In the morning it was decided to move him to the hospital at St. Augustine. He was wrapped warmly and carried carefully out onto the little vine-clad porch, and there suddenly but very quietly his spirit passed on to the Rest of Eternity. The friend with him writes, "A good man gone to his rest, a big loss to those who loved him, but what a grand way to go!"

Lieutenant Clarence K. Lyman of the Fourth United States Cavalry died at the Fort Shafter Hospital, Honolulu, on Sunday, May 16, 1915.

A wave of grief spread throughout our Island community last spring, when it became known that Hawaii had again been called upon to give up one of her most promising sons,—Clarence Lyman, who met his death through a polo accident. During a game played on the Moanalua field on the afternoon of May 15th by the Oahu and Army teams for the entertainment of the visiting Congressmen, Lieut. Lyman's pony, which later proved to be a defective mount, fell, throwing his rider with such force upon his head that he was rendered unconscious and never rallied, not regaining consciousness until the end. He was removed to the Department Hospital, where he passed away on the following day. The funeral services, held at Kawaiahao Church, were military in character and very simple and impressive. They were attended by the Major-General and his staff, brother officers from Mr. Lyman's own regiment, Troop B of the 4th Cavalry, of which he had been commanding officer, and officers and men from various arms of the service, relatives, and many friends from civil life. Rev. Mr. Parker officiated and the Kamehameha Cadets sang the hymns. The beautiful floral offerings were eloquent of the love and esteem of countless friends. The remains were taken to Hilo for interment in the family plot.

Lieut. Lyman was the seventh son of the late Rufus A. Lyman of Hilo. He was born Feb. 28, 1882, attended Kamehameha and Punahou Schools, and in 1901 secured the first appointment from Hawaii to West Point, from which he was graduated in 1905. Because of the splendid record he made while at the Academy and later in the service, he was regarded with personal pride and affection by the people of Hawaii. His quiet but forceful character, his winning personality, his gentle humor, drew everyone to him. He won distinction at West Point for his brilliant riding and was known throughout the service as a splendid type of cavalryman, an able officer. He served with the 4th Cavalry from the time of his graduation until his death, except for a few weeks in the 12th, following his promotion to 1st Lieutenant in 1911. He was graduated from the Mounted Service School at Fort Riley, Kansas, in 1906, was in the Philippines in 1906 and 1907, and came to Schofield Barracks, Oahu, in January, 1913. In August, 1912, he married Miss Helen Lockett, daughter of Col. Lockett of the 11th Cavalry, who survives him.

Clarence's going breaks into that interesting trio of Lyman brothers in the Army, in which Hawaii has taken particular delight and honor, Albert and Charles Lyman having followed Clarence to West Point and each going into a different branch of the service, Albert into the Engineer Corps and Charles into the Infantry. That all three should have been appointed to service at the same time in their own home-land was an unusual event, but one much appreciated by Hawaii.

And so passes from us a noble life, nobly lived, a brave example to his countrymen, a cherished memory to those who loved him!

Mrs. Julia Vernon Lyons died at her home in Honolulu March 26, 1916.

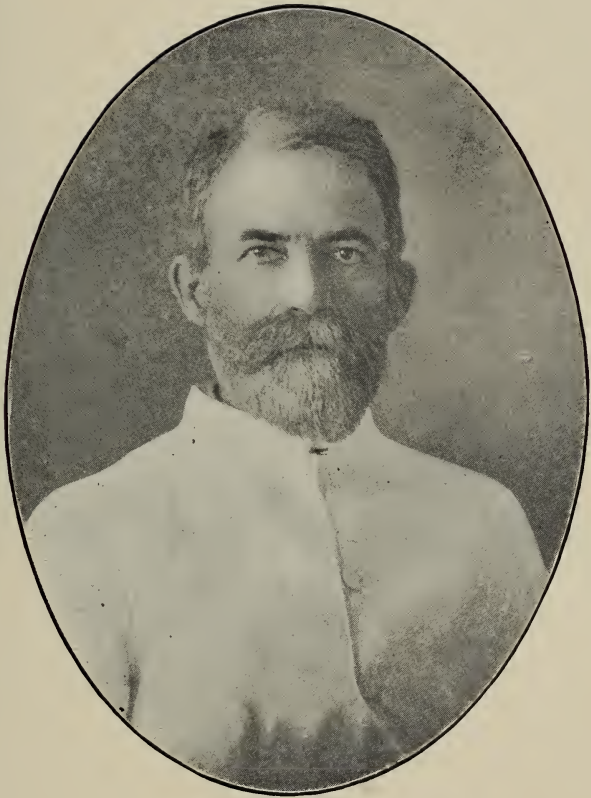

She was born in San Francisco of English parents, and spent her childhood in that city, but in 1865, at the age of ten years, she came with her parents to Honolulu, in the bark D. C. Murray, that brought the first news of Lincoln's assassination. Here she was educated, and here, at the age of eighteen, she married our Cousin, Curtis J. Lyons. She was immediately voted in as a member of the Society, and has always taken a keen interest in its work and in keeping in touch with its members. Though an invalid for thirty years of her life, she was a true helpmate for her talented husband. Her accuracy, her clear thoughts, excellent memory and beautiful penmanship were at his service, and her cheerfulness and sense of humor were a great comfort to him in his long illness. These qualities helped her through her own sufferings which she bore with patience and Christian fortitude.

Her two lovely daughters devoted themselves to her care, and were at her side by day and night, when at the last she needed them most.

Brief services were held at the home, after her departure, and again at four o'clock when with her friends about the flower-decked casket her body was laid to rest in the family plot in beautiful Nuuanu Valley.

William Edwards Rowell was born at Hanalei on the Island of Kauai, but spent his childhood at Waimea on the same island, where his parents, Rev. George B. Rowell and Malvina J. Rowell, missionaries of the American Board, were settled after a short residence at Hanalei. When about twelve years old he went to Rev.

Daniel Dole's school at Koloa on the same island, which he continued to attend for five years, when he went to Oahu College for one year, afterwards studying at the College of California for two years, and then entering the class of 1867 of Williams College in its Junior year, and finally graduating there. At the time of graduation he was inclined to take a medical course, but being without money, he took up such employments as were available, first working in a vinegar or chemical factory in Brooklyn, then managing a lead mine in New York State. With a natural aptitude for engineering he drifted into occupations calling for ability in that line, and from lead mining he went into iron mining, becoming in 1870 mining superintendent of the Brady's Bend Iron Co. in Pennsylvania. It would appear that along these busy years he came to recognize that general engineering and not medicine was the line of effort in which he was to serve humanity, and gave himself to it with the nearest approach to enthusiasm that perhaps he ever exhibited,—for his was a nature not easily roused to manifestations of enthusiasm. It seemed as if he lived on so high a plane or with such a mental grasp of things that the enthusiasms of others were without surprise to him,—that he had already considered them. For years he was successfully engaged in iron mining and smelting in the West, but the lure of Hawaii was still alive within him, and when in 1877 an opportunity was opened to him to take charge of a sugar mill and plantation on Maui, he returned to the Islands. His Hawaiian career is well known; it has been largely constructive engineering in the Department of Public Works, of which he was for many years the Superintendent. It was a public duty, perhaps a sacrifice, for him to become a member of the Hawaiian Legislature of 1884, but it was faithfully performed. Fidelity to duty was a dominant trait of his character, even to details of construction, perhaps when finished to be covered from sight. His industry and determination were exceptional; when he had a duty to perform, no obstacle or danger could turn him aside. The space allowed for this notice is all too limited for opportunity to fairly do justice to his character. The greatness of his cheerfulness and patience under his calamity of blindness is appreciated by the Honolulu community. His other trials in the way of financial reverses, borne with equal serenity, few knew of, as he shouldered such burdens alone. In his last sickness the cordiality of his nature suffered no impairment while consciousness remained. His death occurred at the Queen's Hospital, Honolulu, after a week's illness, March 18, 1916.

An appreciation from the Maui News reads as follows: "William E. Rowell, who died in Honolulu on last Saturday, was one of the finest, most Christ-like characters that ever blessed any community. He was not a church member, but no professing Christian could have led a more exemplary life. Probably no one ever heard him say a really unkind word about any person,—certainly not in the later years of his life,—although it is well known that his kindness and generosity had been abused on numerous occasions. Those who were privileged to know him well, know that they are left richer in that which money cannot buy, or thieves steal."

The following tribute was read at the annual roll-call:

"In Memoriam

William Edwards Rowell

1845-1916

To walk the earth and have its daylight fade,
And still to walk without a murmur made
To pity self or others to condemn,—
Behold a hero walking among men!
The voice of cheer—the unflinching grasp of hand,
The illumined smile, ever at command,—
From out your dark, these signals that you gave
May we send on, O stalwart Soul and brave!"

Philip Henry Dodge.

Frederick Douglas Shepard, M. D., died in Aintab, Turkey, Dec. 18, 1915.

Dr. Shepard was born in Ellenberg, N. Y., Sept. 11, 1855, was educated at Franklin Academy, Malone, N. Y., at Cornell University and the University of Michigan, and graduated from the Medical Department of the latter in 1881. On July 5, 1882, he married Fanny P. Andrews, daughter of Rev. C. B. Andrews, of Maui, (later residing in Ann Arbor, Mich.,) and sailed immediately for Turkey. They were located at Aintab in connection with the Azariah Smith Memorial Hospital. This hospital was organized in 1884 and Dr. Shepard has been "Physician in Charge" from its beginning. At first the attitude of the people was one of distrust, with dislike and opposition on the part of some, but during the years it has grown in the confidence and affection of the people, and in times of epidemic, famine and massacre it has proved its power for good and helpfulness on so large a scale as to give it prestige among all nationalities. The evangelistic work of the hospital has been twofold, directly in services and individual work among the waiting patients and friends, and indirectly in breaking down prejudice among the people.

After the massacre in 1909, Dr. Shepard, besides his work as surgeon and physician at Aintab, traveled about 3000 miles horseback, feeding the starving, organizing industries, and rebuilding houses, churches and schoolhouses in the seven villages of that district. For this purpose he received money from the Turkish Government, from Armenians of Aintab and Oorfah and from Treasurer of International Relief Committee at Constantinople. Once he was robbed by the Kurdish outlaw Abtino, receiving a blow on the head from a gunstock.

Dr. Shepard became a "Cousin" in 1883, and year by year we have followed him and his noble wife through the awful massacres of 1895 and 1909, when he won the respect and confidence of Moslems, and the love and gratitude of Armenians and Greeks. We followed them through the relief work when they established industries for widows and homes for orphans, and when for efficient service he was decorated by the Sultan. We have seen him slipping away to the relief of a sick man while crowds were waiting to do him honor, and we have seen, during the last fearful struggle, his buoyant nature and strong body break under the heavy strain upon his sympathy and man's inability to cope with the fearful wave of sorrow and evil. And yet he continued to use that consecrated skill for the relief of suffering men till that very wave swept him to the shores of rest and peace. All honor to our martyred Cousin—Dr. F. D. Shepard.

Mrs. Anna Laura (Brown) Thrum, died in Honolulu, T. H., March 17, 1916.

"O wonderful, amazing love,
Too great for mortals weak,
Open our hearts to things above,
That these alone we seek.

Some day we'll fully understand,
What Thou to us would be;
And know when in the Heavenly land,
How near we are to Thee.

Yea, not a sparrow falleth, Lord,
But that Thine eye doth see;
How much more then Thy children, Lord,
Must ever precious be."

He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.—Ps. xci:1.

Mrs. Thrum was born Nov. 20, 1844, in Brooklyn, New York. Her early years were spent in New York and St. Louis, and later she journeyed with her family to California, where she met and married Mr. Thos. G. Thrum, January 10, 1867.

Rev. E. G. Beckwith, at that time residing in San Francisco, performed the marriage service, and soon after Mr. Thrum and his bride sailed for the Hawaiian Island kingdom, going to Kohala, Hawaii.

After several years spent on that Island, Mr. and Mrs. Thrum moved to Honolulu, with their young son Ernest, residing here continuously up to the time of her death.

Mrs. Thrum spent a life of active service in her home, in her church and social duties and gave unsparingly of her cheerful and loving nature to all who came within her reach.

As a member of the Bethel Church she joined in the consolidation with The Fort Street Church and while there became a Deaconess, later serving in the same capacity in the Central Union Church almost to the end of her life.

She became a member of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society in 1880 and ever took an active interest in Home and Foreign Missions, Temperance Work and Sabbath Schools.

A life richly spent in service to others, she was thus taken to her well-earned reward, after a brief illness, surrounded by her family and the loving attentions of numberless friends. She leaves her husband, a daughter, two sons with their wives and five grand-daughters.

Miss Mary K. Van Duzee, the beloved missionary in Persia of the North Presbyterian Church of this city, died at the German Deaconess Hospital on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23rd. She was born in Buffalo on Jan. 13, 1843, and was educated by teachers in her own home and at private schools in the city. Very early in youth, she gave evidence of that seriousness of mind and gentleness of disposition which characterized her whole life and which gave it such fine direction.

She lived by schedule that time might not be wasted and thus all through a career of great usefulness, she was able to carry heavy burdens of responsibility with apparent ease.

Her tastes were scholarly and led her early in life to become a teacher of mathematics and astronomy in the school conducted by Miss Sheldon. Blessed with sympathy which was ever responsive to human need, she was among the first to hear the call of social service and for four years gave herself to this work under the direction of the North Church, of which she had become a member when ten years old. While teaching mathematics at Wheaton Seminary, Massachusetts, she was led by a friend to take deep interest in foreign missions and decided to offer herself to the Presbyterian Board. She thus became, when 32 years old, a teacher in Urumia, Persia, of Mohammedan girls and established the school which has been of great blessing to the womanhood of Persia. For nearly forty years she toiled incessantly for the uplift of the youth of that Moslem land, being supported in part through all that period and during recent years entirely by the women's guild of the North Presbyterian Church of this city.

The Mary K. Van Duzee mission band for the boys and girls of the church has for more than a generation drawn its inspiration from her life of self-sacrifice and high devotion.

In 1913 she returned to Lancaster, this State, for the evening of her days. It was but a brief eventide, made beautiful by the light of serene Christian faith and yet long enough to bring to her the joy of friendship which sprang from profound admiration of the unusual qualities of mind and heart with which she was endowed.

In far-away Persia and in the States, she was known and beloved for her work's sake and in that noble band of men and women who make up the company of the missionaries of the faith, she had won a place of honor and will long be remembered as a woman of unusual strength of character and charm of personality, who seemed ever to live in the quiet joy of an unquestioning faith in the great verities of Christian faith.

—From a Buffalo, N. Y., paper.

Sarah Coan Waters.—On the 29th of March, 1916, in the city of New York, Sarah Coan Waters, a life-long members of the Cousins' Society, slipped from the faithful watchers beside her, and entered upon the life that knows no pain or sorrow, or severing of heart strings.

Leaving the Islands in her teens, she returned to them but once in all the years, at that time visiting her old home in Hilo, with her only sister, Hattie, there to greet her; and later making a visit of several month in Honolulu, renewing the friendships of her girlhood—long since ripened into relations of the deepest, closest understanding and appreciation. It was an experience never to be forgotten by herself or her friends.

Some time after returning to New York her husband passed away, leaving her quite alone. Frail health was her portion for a number of years, but bravely and smilingly she busied her hands in producing useful and very attractive articles, that were constantly in demand among her acquaintances. One or more falls disabled her as time passed, and though utmost love and care supplied all possible help, the frail body was thankful to enter upon its final rest.

To the end her loyalty and love for Hawaii were boundless;—her friends were as her own kin.

Patient in suffering, brave in endurance, tender in heart and loyal to her friends, her memory will be cherished by all who knew her.

Others have died whom we loved as Cousins.

The home-going of the three noble sisters Misses Jane and Belle Johnson and Mrs. Achsah Smith within a year of their active life among us, has seemed a personal loss to many of our number. They were interested in all missionary work, and often attended our meetings. They surrounded the motherless little ones left in their care with a particularly wholesome, home-like atmosphere. They were always so strong and efficient, seeming to radiate health and good cheer, and we continue to think of them so—living and happy still.

Mother Peterson, who passed out of our sight May 10, 1915, was very dear to some of the older Cousins. Hers was such a beautiful, loving, saint-like life, yet so quiet, gentle, unobtrusive, comfortable and comforting, it is easy to think of her in heaven wearing jewels in her crown of rejoicing.

Many Cousins will remember Dr. George Huntington who with his accomplished wife spent a few months in Honolulu a year ago. Few realized the talent, versatility and widespread influence for good of this quiet visitor. At the Christmastide his wife sent one of his beautiful poems, "When I Am Old." Now that Dr. Huntington has passed into the realm of perpetual youth, we would like the privilege of quoting the last stanza of this most exquisite poem:

"Into no valley's shadow go the weary feet,
 But up the radiant heights, where light serenely sweet
 Shines clear, and visions fair unfold,
 There is the bound of Age, the landmark by the way,
 There stands the warder, as I cross the line, to say,
 'Here none is old.'"

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. R. W. ANDREWS,
 Secretary.

TREASURER'S REPORT

April 1, 1915—March 31, 1916.

At the request of several members the report will be lengthened slightly by a brief statement of each of the separate accounts under which the finances of the society are kept, as with passage of years confusion has grown up in the minds of some.

There are two funds with which the treasurer has never had anything to do.

THE MEMORIAL FUND.

This is a fund for the restoration and maintenance of the Old Mission House. Trustees in 1907 started to collect money for this purpose. Circulars issued by the special trustees of this fund are often confused with those sent out by the treasurer. G. R. Carter, C. H. Cooke and F. C. Atherton are the present trustees, whose annual report is made direct to the society.

CHAMBERLAIN HOUSE COMMITTEE.

The Memorial Fund was originally intended for both the Old Mission House and the Old Chamberlain House but in 1915 a special "Chamberlain House Committee" was created to raise money for the restoration of the Chamberlain House. The treasurer does not handle this.

THE MISSIONARY FUND.

May 22, 1875, the society accepted a gift of $500.00 from E. C. Bond on condition that it be invested until with the income and other gifts it amounted to $2000.00, after which the Society "may employ the income of the fund for the purposes of the society, preserving a capital sum of not less than $2000.00 as a permanent fund of the society." It now amounts to about $3000.00. The investment of this fund has for many years not been made by the treasurer. The society pays commission to Messrs. Castle & Withington who keep the fund invested in real estate mortgages. The treasurer annually draws enough of the income to pay the appropriations and in his annual report only accounts for this part of the fund.

Some years ago a small mortgage was not paid and the land, Lot 1, Block 40, Pearl City, Ewa, Island of Oahu, was taken over by the society. This has always been vacant and unproductive and I recommend that it at once be sold.

STANGENWALD FUND.

Mrs. A. M. Stangenwald by her will left an endowment fund of $2500.00 the income to be used "for the support of two pupils in Hawaiian Island boarding schools." This will not be delivered to us until after Nov. 4, 1919, but meanwhile from the trustees of the will we get a net income of about $157.50, paid quarterly. The specific objects of this bequest make it necessary to keep a separate account. It is more than enough to support two girls and the balance has been used with $25.00 from the Missionary Fund to pay tuition of another girl.

MAINTENANCE FUND.

Although not required by the conditions of its creation the income of the "Missionary Fund" has always been used for missionary and benevolent objects and in 1907 the membership fees were made into a fund the income of which can be used for general expenses. As time goes on this will gradually lessen the amount to be raised each year by contributions. Part of this has been invested in a Hilo R. R. bond. There has been a foreclosure by the bondholders and no income for a year. There will be some loss on the investment. How much cannot now be told.

GENERAL ACCOUNT.

The general expenses of the society have from its origin in 1853 been paid by contributions and as the meetings with their attendant collections have dwindled from monthly to annual meetings the custom has grown up of sending an annual circular broadcast, the world around, calling for contributions. The Maintenance Fund helps out a little and Charles Furneaux who in his lifetime made a regular contribution of $25.00 has by his will continued this as a bequest. The Board of Managers this year decided that for the present this should be given to the Chamberlain House Committee for its purposes.

REPORT OF CHAMBERLAIN HOUSE COMMITTEE.

To the President and Members of the Hawaiian Mission
Children's Society:—

At the last Annual Meeting the following were appointed by your president as the Chamberlain House Committee:—

George P. Castle	Mrs. Alice Lewis
W. W. Chamberlain	Mrs. W. O. Aiken
Mrs. J. P. Cooke	Geo. R. Carter
Geo. P. Cooke	Mrs. B. F. Dillingham
B. R. Banning	Miss Elsie Wilcox
Miss Julia Gulick	Miss Harriet Hitchcock
S. G. Wilder, Treasurer.

The committee was appointed for the purpose of raising the sum of Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000.) or so much thereof as it was possible to raise; the first $7500. of said sum to be used in renovating and making over the Chamberlain House into as nearly as possible its original condition. The balance of the $15,000. to be raised, or so much as the Committee was successful in raising, was to be paid over to the Hawaiian Board's Memorial Building, and in consideration for this donation the Hawaiian Board would allow the Cousins' Society, free of charge, the permanent use of the vault and adjoining rooms on the second floor of the Memorial Building.

Your Committee held several meetings to consider the best method of procedure in the raising of funds and after preparing lists of the members of the Society and drafting a letter to be sent to each member of the Society, the membrs were proportioned among the committee each one taking a certain number; circulars were sent out enclosing pledge cards and responses have been coming in throughout the year, with the result that 214 donations have been made aggregating $11,310.16. These donations are clas-

Your Committee had hoped that a larger number of members of the society would have responded even if the amounts were not large, as it is felt that it would be well to have the members take a more personal interest in the Cousins' Society and its undertakings.

The full sum required for the Chamberlain House has been subscribed and is deposited in the bank drawing interest. There has been paid over to the Hawaiian Board on account of the Memorial Building the sum of $2000. There is now in the hands of the Treasurer and in bank $670.81 and pledges not collected of $1090. From time to time as these pledges are collected the money will be paid over to the Hawaiian Board. Including the cash paid over, on hand and pledged there is the sum of $3760.81 available and to be turned over to the Board, which leaves the sum of $3739.19 short of the mark set by the Committee. Your Committee feels that while under the resolution authorizing the raising of these funds it was not mandatory that $7500. be raised for the Hawaiian Board Memorial Building, there is still a moral obligation on the part of the Cousins' Society to continue the endeavor to raise the full amount, and your committee would recommend to the Society that a new committee be appointed to endeavor to raise, during the coming year, the remaining $3739.19 from the members of the Society who have not yet contributed.

Accompanying this report is a full list of the names of all those who have subscribed towards the Chamberlain House Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

G. P. CASTLE,

Chairman Chamberlain House Committee.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

Honolulu, T. H., May 11, 1916.

Mrs. R. W. Andrews, Secretary,
Hawaiian Mission Children's Society,
Honolulu, T. H.

Dear Madam:

The last annual report showed a balance of securities and cash on hand of $6,192.83. During the past year this has been augmented by the sum of $2,589.80, showing a balance to the credit of this account on April 1, 1916, of $8,782.63.

During the year, on account of the foreclosure proceedings against the Hilo Railroad Company, the trustees surrendered the three bonds which were held in this account, taking certificates for same, which will result in the issue of sixty per cent. of the value in 5% bonds, and additional preferred stock to make up the par value of the bonds. The market value of these securities is therefore less at the present time than the original cost value.

A statement of the securities held and the receipts for the year is appended herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE R. CARTER,
C. H. COOKE,
F. C. ATHERTON,

Trustees.

SYMBOLS IN THE LIST OF MEMBERS.

Original members of the Society, whether children of missionaries or elect members, have their names printed in the usual manner. The names of their children are preceded by one star, and those of children's children by two stars.

In many cases the name is preceded by a symbol in the margin, which denotes the person's missionary parentage or ancestry; and the key to the symbols is the list below, in which the missionary names are given, but no titles.

Where the residence of a husband is given, that of the wife, in the next line, is the same.
